

SPEA Undergraduate

Welcome to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA)

So, what is the School of Public and Environmental Affairs?

Good question! Our name says a lot about who we are, what we do, and what you can study here.

SPEA was founded as a response to the needs and problems of modern society—needs that were not being addressed by other more traditional schools such as business, arts and sciences, or political science. Our scope is wide, and we address such issues as public finance, nonprofit management, public management, environmental management, policy analysis, health administration, criminal justice and arts administration.

Even better, this year we have welcomed several new faculty members who are already making a difference and leading our school into the future. You can see who they are by going here.

The school's broadening globalization is already being realized in the expanded programs of studies in several countries around the world through SPEA Overseas Education. Additionally, we are strengthening our research in energy policy, sustainable development, and the prevention of poverty, and building on traditional strengths in public finance, management of nonprofit and public sectors, and arts administration.

Beyond your degree program, SPEA offers many opportunities to enrich your academic career, such as the Honors Program, IU in DC program, the Accelerated Master's program, and many more. Seek out what speaks to you to expand your experience here at SPEA!

To us, a public or environmental affair is an issue or problem that affects the quality of life on this planet for its citizens. That's a big list, obviously, and our graduates go on to jobs in many fields—public, private, and nonprofit.

Overview

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA) is a multidisciplinary division of Indiana University. The school is organized as a Bloomington-Indianapolis core campus professional school, committed to teaching, research, and service. The interests of the faculty and professional staff typically fall into one or more of the following areas: policy and administration; sustainable management and policy; international affairs; finance and economics; public and nonprofit management; arts management; urban affairs; environmental science and policy; criminal justice, law, and public safety; health science, media and public affairs, administration, and policy. The school's faculty, staff, and students work individually and jointly to solve problems that require SPEA's unique combination of in-depth knowledge in the natural, behavioral, social, and administrative sciences.

SPEA, because of its broad program base, can offer scientific and technical assistance to Indiana communities. Public and private organizations, as well as all levels of government, benefit from the knowledge and expertise of SPEA faculty, staff, and students.

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs offers bachelor of science degrees. These programs provide a sound general education with specialized study of public safety, criminal justice, public affairs, arts management, public health, media and public affairs, or environmental systems. The school also offers minors and certificate programs.

Organizations & Services

Office of Career Services

SPEA Alumni Association

Business/SPEA Information Commons-Library

Honor Societies

Career Development Office

SPEA's Career Development Office (CDO) on the Bloomington campus provides students with a wide range of career development services and professional development programming. A partial list of services available to students includes (1) a Web-based internship/job listing service, SPEACareers.com; (2) a full calendar of companies/organizations recruiting SPEA students for internships and professional positions;

(3) individual career counseling; (4) information sessions/networking events connecting SPEA alumni with currently enrolled students; (5) topical career workshops and campus career fairs; (6) user-friendly Web-based career resources and an extensive career resource library. The CDO also assists students' access to potential employers by coordinating regional and national career exploration trips. Trips to Indianapolis, Chicago, and Washington, D.C., help position students for pursuit of employment opportunities with governmental, nonprofit, consulting, and environmental organizations.

Further assistance is offered through a two-credit course, SPEA-V 252 Career Development and Planning. (SPEA-H 267 for Health Administration majors), a required course for most SPEA majors. SPEA-V 252/SPEA-H 267 introduces students to the process of career development and planning through self-assessment and individualized tutorials in key subject areas including interviewing techniques, writing cover letters and résumés, job search strategies, and development of an overall career development plan.

SPEA places a premium on experiential education and applied learning. Many SPEA undergraduate programs on the Bloomington campus require students to complete an internship. Internships provide students an excellent opportunity to apply classroom theory and their academic knowledge base to real-life experiences. Students must be in good academic standing, receive internship authorization from the CDO, and complete all required internship paperwork before beginning the internship experience. The CDO is responsible for authorizing, monitoring, and assessing student internships. Internships may be full or part time, paid or unpaid; however, prior approval from CDO is always required.

The internship program is designed for maximum flexibility so that many valuable learning experiences can qualify as internships. The purpose of the internship is to develop professional-level skills. All credit for an internship is awarded on an S/F (Satisfactory/ Fail) basis. Credit is not granted for work experience obtained prior to approval of an internship and enrollment in the appropriate internship class. Please visit the CDO Web site (www.indiana.edu/~spea/career_services/register_internship/undergraduate_internships/index.shtml) for further information on required paperwork.

Students seeking career-planning assistance should check with the Career Development Office, located on the Bloomington campus in SPEA 200, (812) 855-9639, for answers to specific questions.

Career planning assistance is also available on the Indianapolis campus with a wide range of career development services and professional development programming. A partial list of services available to students includes: (1) a Web-based internship/job listing service, www.iupuispeacareers.com; (2) access to companies/organizations recruiting SPEA students for internships and professional positions; (3) individual career counseling; (4) information sessions/networking events connecting SPEA alumni with currently enrolled students; (5) topical career workshops and campus career fairs; (6) Optimal Resume at <https://spea-iupui.optimalresume.com>, a resume builder with nearly unlimited content and styling flexibility as well as modules that include interview skills, portfolios, letters, and assessments. Assistance is provided for students' access to potential employers by coordinating student interest with faculty, staff, and alumni support. The internship program is designed for maximum flexibility so that many valuable learning experiences can qualify as internships. The purpose of the internship is to develop professional-level skills. All credit for an internship is awarded on an S/F (Satisfactory/Fail) basis. Credit is not granted for work experience obtained prior to approval of an internship.

Further assistance is offered through a two-credit course, SPEA-V 252 Career Development and Planning. SPEA-V252 introduces students to the process of career development and planning through self-assessment and individualized tutorials in key subject areas including interviewing techniques, writing cover letters, personal statements, thank you notes and résumés, job search strategies, and development of an overall career development plan. This course is also offered online in the spring semester.

Students seeking career-planning or professional development assistance on the Indianapolis campus should contact Kathleen Hursh, (317) 278-3651, hurshk@iupui.edu.

SPEA Alumni Association

SPEA has a strong commitment to its alumni and considers them among our most valued resources. The SPEA Office of Alumni Relations strives to maintain lifelong connections with our network of over 28,000 alumni. When SPEA graduates join the Indiana University Alumni Association, they automatically become members of the SPEA Alumni Association. The mission of the SPEA Alumni Association is to inspire and cultivate dynamic interactions among alumni, the school, and current students for the betterment of SPEA and the professions it serves. Some activities of the Association include the Capitol Hill Colloquium, annual social gatherings in Indianapolis, Chicago and Washington D.C., and networking and educational opportunities for SPEA alumni- nationally and globally. The association is also a sponsor of the SPEA Magazine and the e-newsletter, connect @SPEA, and manages an endowed scholarship that is awarded annually to SPEA undergraduate and graduate students. The SPEA Alumni Association is governed by an elected board of directors comprised of SPEA Alumni who represent diverse academic and geographic backgrounds. For more information, please visit www.indiana.edu/~speaalum.

Business/SPEA Information Commons Library

The Bloomington Business/SPEA Information Commons-Library provides the space, research tools, and services that help foster graduate student success. Available in SPEA 150 are 16 group study rooms, 40 individual workstations, spaces for collaborative and quiet study, a core collection of print materials, and a cafe. In addition, library subscriptions provide access to hundreds of subject-specific digital resources, and in-person or virtual consultations ("Ask a Librarian") connect students to research help and resource assistance. See the Business/SPEA Information Commons website www.libraries.iub.edu/index.php?pagelid=77 for more information.

Honor Societies

Alpha Phi Sigma

Alpha Phi Sigma is the national criminal justice honor society at SPEA Indianapolis. The society recognizes scholastic excellence of students in the field of criminal justice. It was founded in 1942 and was admitted to the Association of College Honor Societies in 1980. To be eligible, undergraduate students must have earned an overall grade point average of at least 3.20 for at least 40 credit hours of course work, and must include at least four criminal justice courses with a minimum 3.20 grade point average. For additional information, students should contact their criminal justice faculty advisor.

Pi Alpha Alpha at SPEA Bloomington

Pi Alpha Alpha is the national honorary society for schools of public affairs and administration. The society acknowledges outstanding scholarship and contributions to these fields. It was founded in 1972 by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) to honor those whose performance in public affairs has been distinguished. The Indiana chapter of Pi Alpha Alpha is a charter chapter. Membership in Pi Alpha Alpha may be compared to membership in Phi Beta Kappa for liberal arts graduates. A person evaluating credentials in the various fields of public service should recognize the professional quality such a membership represents.

Undergraduate students may be eligible for Pi Alpha Alpha membership when they are in the top 10 percent of their graduating class with a minimum grade point average of 3.50 in at least 15 credit hours of SPEA courses, when they are in the last semester of the junior year or in the senior year, and when they have earned a grade point average of at least 3.00 in all course work. These are the national minimum requirements. However, higher minimum requirements may be used and may change annually depending on grade trends.

Alumni are eligible for membership if they meet all the requirements of student membership, even if they graduated before induction by the Indiana chapter.

Honorary membership is available to any person who has achieved distinction in public administration and who has the distinguished qualities that Pi Alpha Alpha fosters.

Information regarding Pi Alpha Alpha and the Honors Program at SPEA Indianapolis can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Centers & Institutes

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs encompasses public service activities that complement innovative academic programs. The school provides a wide variety of services to a number of federal, state, and local agencies.

Center for Criminal Justice Research

The Center for Criminal Justice Research works with public safety agencies and social services organizations to provide impartial applied research on criminal justice and public safety issues. CCJR provides analysis, evaluation, and assistance to criminal justice agencies; and community information and education on public safety questions. Created in 2008 by the Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs, some of the issues CCJR addresses include crime crime and justice trends, crime prevention, criminal justice systems, policing, traffic safety, and youth.

Geographic Information Systems Laboratory

The Geographic Information Systems Laboratory (GIS) is a state-of-the-art computing facility. The lab has information processing technology that manages, analyzes, and displays spatial data for scientific and policy research. Information about the GIS Lab can be found at www.indiana.edu/~spea.

Institute for Development Strategies

The Institute for Development Strategies, co-sponsored by the Office of Research, the University Graduate School and the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, is a university-wide research program linking faculty resources from various departments and campuses. The institute examines research-related problems in the field of regional entrepreneurship and economic development at local, national, and international levels. It focuses on strategies for entrepreneurship and economic development and conducts research on the causes and consequences of globalization. Additional information can be found at www.indiana.edu/~idsspea/.

Institute for Family and Social Responsibility

The Institute for Family and Social Responsibility (FASR) is a joint effort of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA) and the School of Social Work, with its focus on social policy research and outreach activities. The institute's mission is to bring together the resources of citizens, governments, communities, and Indiana University to better the lives of children and families. Ongoing and completed research projects examine the impact of welfare reforms; the adequacy of child support guidelines; programmatic improvements from two new E-government child support innovations; the efficacy of community-based child abuse prevention interventions; community responses to the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families legislation; the scope and level of involvement of faith-based organizations in delivering social services to current and former welfare recipients; and AIDS education for incarcerated youth, battered women, and the homeless. Two projects funded by the U.S. State Department were completed with the Stolypin Regional Academy of Civil Service and the Northwest Academy of Public Administration in Russia. Both projects had significant components focused on the effectiveness, financing, and management of social welfare programs. A third policy analysis capacity building project was recently completed with the Higher School of Economics in Moscow. The FASR institute also serves as the editorial home of the Journal of Policy Analysis and Management as well as the National Child Support Enforcement Research Clearinghouse. Annually, the institute co-sponsors a Family Impact Seminar for state legislators. Further information concerning FASR can be found at www.spea.indiana.edu/fasr/.

IU Public Policy Institute

The IU Public Policy Institute is a collaborative, multidisciplinary research institute within the Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs. The Institute serves as an umbrella organization for research centers affiliated with SPEA, including the Center for Urban Policy and the Environment, the Center for Civic Literacy and the Center for Criminal Justice Research. The Institute also supports the Indiana Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations \(IACIR\).

Admission

SPEA Bloomington

SPEA Indianapolis

Intercampus Transfer

Returning Education—Indianapolis

SPEA Bloomington

SPEA Bloomington requires application to its undergraduate programs before a student reaches 75 credit hours. It is a competitive admission process. Students are required to have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.3 and complete a SPEA major or core class with a minimum grade of C.

The minimum cumulative GPA requirement for admission may be subject to change. Students should apply for admission when they are enrolled in the preadmission course. Admission decisions are based on the grade in the above required course, the SPEA GPA, the cumulative GPA, and grade trends. A minimum cumulative GPA requirement for admission is established each semester.

Application deadlines are May 1 for fall admission and December 1 for spring admission. Applications for the Bloomington programs are available on the web at: <https://helpnet.iu.edu/apps/speabl/undergradApplications/Default3.aspx>

Arts Management Admission Requirements

SPEA requires students applying to its undergraduate programs to have completed 26 credit hours and a maximum of 75 credit hours. Students are required to complete the introductory course SPEA-A 163 and have a cumulative GPA of 3.0. Students should apply for admission when they are enrolled in the preadmissions course SPEA-A 163.

It is a competitive admission process. Admission decisions are based on the cumulative GPA, grade trends, and application statement. Application deadlines are May 1 for fall admission and December 1 for spring admission.

Applications for this program are available on the Web at www.indiana.edu/~spea/prospective_students/undergrad/admissions/index.shtml/

Law and Public Policy Admission Requirement

SPEA requires students applying to its undergraduate programs to have completed 26 credit hours and a maximum of 75 credit hours. Students are required to complete an introductory course SPEA-V 220 and have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.7.

It is a competitive admission process. Admission decisions are based on the cumulative GPA, grade trends, and application statement. Application deadlines are May 1 for fall admission and December 1 for spring admission. Applications for this program are available on the Web at <https://helpnet.iu.edu/apps/speabl/undergradApplications/Default3.aspx>

Direct Admission to SPEA Bloomington

Students directly admitted into SPEA out of high school have the advantages of not having to apply for admission to SPEA in their sophomore year (a competitive process); they work directly with SPEA advisors, faculty, and upperclassmen during their freshman year; and they get a jumpstart on planning their academic and post-baccalaureate careers. Directly admitted students may also receive priority attention if they apply for SPEA's prestigious Washington Leadership Program. To be eligible for direct admission to SPEA, a student must indicate on their IU admission application that they are interested in being admitted directly to SPEA. They must also be accepted to Indiana University. Direct admit students must rank within the top 15% of their high school class and score a minimum of 1250 on the SAT or score a minimum of 28 on the ACT.

SPEA Indianapolis

Information regarding undergraduate admissions, transfers, credit for police and firefighting training, and the Sex Offenders Screening Policy for Students/Applicants for SPEA-IUPUI on the Indianapolis campus can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Intercampus Transfer

Intercampus Transfer to Bloomington

Students admitted to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs at any campus of Indiana University may transfer permanently to SPEA on another campus, provided they meet the requirements for admission and good academic standing at the desired campus. Students wanting a temporary intercampus transfer need only meet the good academic standing requirements.

Intercampus Transfer to Indianapolis

Information regarding undergraduate admissions, transfers, credit for police and firefighting training, and the Sex Offenders Screening Policy for Students/Applicants for SPEA-IUPUI on the Indianapolis campus can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Returning Education—Indianapolis

Information regarding returning students, Indianapolis Forgiveness Policy, and requirements for a second bachelor's degree for SPEA-IUPUI on the Indianapolis campus can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Policies & Procedures

The academic policies of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs are applicable to all SPEA undergraduate programs regardless of the campus where they are offered. Additional policies at individual campuses may also apply to SPEA students.

Grading System

SPEA follows the official grading system of Indiana University, which is as follows:

A+, A	=	4.00	C	=	2.00
A-	=	3.70	C-	=	1.70
B+	=	3.30	D+	=	1.30
B	=	3.00	D	=	1.00
B-	=	2.70	D-	=	0.70
C+	=	2.30	F	=	0.00

The following grades carry no points: I (Incomplete— an Incomplete will change to an F if the work is not completed within the time period specified by the instructor [an instructor can specify any period of time up to one year]), NR (No Grade Reported), P (Pass), R (Deferred), S (Satisfactory), W (Withdrawal —check the current Enrollment and Student Academic Information Handbook for deadlines).

On the Bloomington campus, any SPEA undergraduate student may retake a course for which he/she received a grade below an A. Students may exercise this option for no more than three courses, totaling no more than 10 credits and may use this option only once for a given course. Additional information can be found at: <http://registrar.indiana.edu/extendedx.shtml>.

The Indianapolis campus has an expanded policy for grade replacement. A student seeking their first degree may replace up to 15 credits. Additional information about the IUPUI Grade Replacement Policy can be found on the Registrar's page.

Grade Appeals

Students in Bloomington seeking to make an appeal should first meet with the professor to understand and resolve the issue. If the student feels they are at an impasse they may make an appeal to the Director, Undergraduate Programs. The director will meet individually with the student and the professor to learn about the situation and find a resolution. If no resolution is arrived at, the Director will make a final decision, informing both the student and the professor with a copy to the SPEA Executive Associate Dean.

Students in Indianapolis have 90 days after the conclusion of a course to appeal a grade. Resolution of the issue with the class instructor must be attempted before submitting a written appeal to the appropriate program director. In the event the instructor for the Indianapolis campus cannot be contacted, the student must give a notice of intent to appeal at 90 days.

More information can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin website at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Academic Standing

- Good Academic Standing
- Probation
- Critical Probation
- Dismissal
- Readmission

SPEA Bloomington Critical Probation

Under special circumstances, SPEA students may be placed on critical probation. If the student is given the opportunity to enroll under critical probation, SPEA will establish strict conditions that must be met before that student will be allowed to register for future classes.

Students who fail to return to good standing at the conclusion of critical probation may be dismissed from the school.

SPEA Indianapolis Critical Probation policy

Information regarding the SPEA Indianapolis Critical Probation Policy can be found in the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Probation

SPEA Bloomington Probation Policy

A student will be placed on academic probation if his/her cumulative or semester grade point average is below 2.00 or his/her SPEA GPA falls below 2.30. In the Bachelor of Science in Arts Management, students will be placed on probation if the SPEA GPA falls below a 2.7 or the cumulative falls below a 2.3. In order for the SPEA GPA to be considered, a student must have completed 12 or more credit hours in the major. If a student is not making satisfactory progress toward a degree at the conclusion of the probation semester, the student may be dismissed from the school.

SPEA Indianapolis Probation Policy

Please see the information on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Good Academic Standing

Students are in good academic standing when their semester and their cumulative grade point averages are 2.00 or above and their SPEA grade point average is at least 2.30. Students must be in good academic standing to graduate.

In Bloomington the Bachelor of Science in Arts Management student must maintain a 2.7 (B-) overall grade point average in the core and major requirements as well as a 2.3 (C+) cumulative grade point average in all course work taken at Indiana University in order to graduate.

SPEA Bloomington Dismissal

If, in the opinion of the appropriate program director, a student is not making satisfactory progress toward his/her degree, he/she may be dismissed. Dismissed students will have their upcoming semester courses cancelled.

Information regarding SPEA Indianapolis Dismissal Policy and Freshman Dismissal Policy can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Readmission

Dismissed students must petition their campus program director for readmission. Dismissed students whose petitions are denied will not be allowed to register.

SPEA Indianapolis Reinstatement policy

Please see the information on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Each student is responsible for knowing their rights and responsibilities as a member of the academic community as outlined in the Indiana University Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct. In accordance with federal law, student records are confidential and are available to other persons only under specific conditions, as outlined in university regulations. Among the student's obligations is that each student is responsible for knowing and meeting the requirements for their academic programs. Faculty and staff are available to guide and assist students, but the responsibility rests with the student. SPEA students who engage in academic or personal misconduct are subject to SPEA's judicial process and disciplinary actions.

SPEA Indianapolis fully supports the rights and responsibilities of students as defined in the IUPUI Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct. The Student Codes spells out the expectations for faculty and students, and it provides the framework for SPEA's judicial process.

A student is entitled to rights in the pursuit of his or her education; freedom from discrimination and harassment; and freedom of association, expression, advocacy, and publication. A student also has the right to contribute to university governance, to receive accommodations for disabilities, and to access records and facilities. In accordance with federal law, student records are confidential and are available to other persons only under specific conditions as outlined in university regulations.

A student is responsible for upholding and following all applicable codes of conduct, including the IUPUI Student Code and SPEA's policy on classroom etiquette and disorderly conduct, and for obeying all applicable policies and procedures and all local, state, and federal laws. A student is responsible for facilitating the learning process, attending class regularly, completing class assignments, and coming to class prepared. In addition, a student is responsible for planning his or her own academic program, planning class schedules, and for meeting the requirements for his or her degree or certificate programs. Faculty and academic advisors are available to assist students in meeting this responsibility. A student is responsible for maintaining and regularly monitoring his or her university accounts, including e-mail and bursar accounts. A student is responsible for using university property and facilities in the pursuit of his or her education, while being mindful of the rights of others to do the same. A student is responsible for upholding and maintaining academic and professional honesty and integrity.

More information can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin website at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

School Standards

Academic Integrity

This is a basic principle requiring that students take credit only for ideas and efforts that are their own. Academic dishonesty violates that principle and undermines the bonds of trust and cooperation among members of the university community. Penalties and procedures that are applicable when academic misconduct or dishonesty occurs are provided in the SPEA Student Honor Code, and the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct. The policy on academic dishonesty is also published each semester in the Bloomington Enrollment and Student Academic Information Handbook. At Indianapolis, this is a basic principle of intellectual life that holds students responsible for taking credit only for ideas and efforts that are their own. Academic dishonesty violates that principle and undermines the bonds of trust and cooperation among members of the university community, and it is not tolerated. Academic misconduct includes cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, interference, violation of course rules, and facilitating academic dishonesty. Students are responsible for knowing what behaviors and activities constitute these different forms of academic misconduct. Penalties and procedures that are applicable when academic misconduct or dishonesty occurs are described in the IUPUI Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct.

Indianapolis Statement on Civility

SPEA, which is a professional school, expects students to conduct themselves in a courteous and civil manner in interactions with professors, staff, and fellow students. Examples of discourteous behavior during class include reading the newspaper, working crossword puzzles, using headphones to listen to music or other non-class items, using computers to surf the Web or for other non-class activities, talking or laughing with others, arriving late, and so forth. These behaviors are distracting to the instructor, to staff, and to classmates, and SPEA faculty and staff will address these problems as they arise either in class or on an individual basis. Disorderly conduct that interferes with teaching, research, administration, or other university or university-authorized activity will not be tolerated, and it may result in disciplinary action, including possible suspension and/or expulsion from the university.

Application for Graduation

All IU students must apply to graduate with their schools. IUB does not automatically award degrees once requirements are complete; students need to declare their intention by completing a graduation application.

SPEA Bloomington students are asked to complete an online graduation application after they've registered for their final semester of coursework--final spring semester for May, June, or August grads, final fall semester for December grads. May, June and August grads are asked to comply with a December 1 deadline, December grads with a May 1 deadline. The online graduation application is available each semester for a limited time.

The graduation application link is available online or by contacting the SPEA Undergraduate Programs Office at 812.855.0635.

In Indianapolis, the graduation application should be completed by September 10 for December graduation, or January 10 for May or August graduation. The SPEA graduation application is found online or by visiting SPEA Student Services. Further information can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Bulletin Policy

Students are expected to complete the requirements for their undergraduate degree within 10 years of admission to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Students are allowed to continue beyond this time period only at the discretion of the undergraduate program director or campus director. If a student has not taken classes for three years or more, that student must satisfy the program requirements of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs in effect at the time of reactivation. Requests for deviation from requirements listed in the bulletin must be approved in writing by the program director, whose decision is final.

Course Opportunities

A student in good academic standing may choose to take a maximum of eight elective courses (two per academic year) pass/fail for the B.S. degree or two courses for the A.S. degree. Deadlines for exercising this option are published in the Enrollment and Student Academic Information Handbook and are strictly enforced.

With prior approval, a student may take three courses, totaling no more than 10 credit hours, by independent study through the School of Continuing Studies. Under no circumstances may a student satisfy a core or major/concentration requirement by independent study.

With SPEA faculty approval, a student in good standing may earn a maximum of 9 credit hours through the SPEA internship program.

SPEA students may choose to pursue a minor from another school, department, or within SPEA in an area other than their degree or major/concentration. Students interested in a minor should contact that department for additional information.

More information on SPEA-IUPUI policies covering independent study, internships and minors can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Double-Counting

In Bloomington, the following course double-count policies are for admitted SPEA students only. Non-SPEA majors cannot double count courses with any SPEA academic program.

- SPEA Minors: Admitted SPEA students earning a SPEA minor may double count up to six (6) credit hours of minor courses with any other SPEA academic program. Each SPEA minor must have at least nine (9) credit hours that do not count toward any other SPEA academic program.
- SPEA Certificates: Admitted SPEA students earning a SPEA certificate may double count up to six (6) credit hours of certificate requirements with any other SPEA academic program. The remaining SPEA certificate credit hours cannot be applied toward any other SPEA academic program.
- SPEA Double Majors: Admitted SPEA students earning two SPEA majors within the same degree may double count up to six (6) credit hours of major courses for both majors. Since, SPEA core courses are common to both majors, only specific to the majors (not core courses) are subject to the double-counting limit.
- Dual Degrees: Admitted SPEA students earning two SPEA degrees may double count up to six (6) credit hours of core or major courses for both degrees.

For Indianapolis policies on double-counting, please go to SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

GPA Requirement

A minimum cumulative and semester GPA of 2.00 is required for the B.S. degrees. In addition, a SPEA core and major/concentration GPA of 2.30 must be maintained in order to graduate.

In Bloomington the Bachelor of Science in Arts Management student must maintain a 2.7 (B#) overall grade point average in the core and major requirements as well as a 2.3 (C+) cumulative grade point average in all course work taken at Indiana University in order to graduate.

As a joint degree from the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Public Affairs, the B.S. in Environmental Science requires a cumulative GPA of 2.0 (C) to graduate. All courses taken to satisfy major requirements must be completed with a C- or higher and with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 (C) for all courses taken in the major.

For Bloomington students seeking certificates or minors from SPEA, the minimum GPA requirement is 2.00 in all applicable course work.

In Bloomington the Educational Policy minor requires a C or better in each course and a 2.0 GPA overall.

In Indianapolis a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 is required for the B.S. degrees. In addition, a SPEA major GPA of 2.3 must be maintained in order to graduate. For students seeking certificates from SPEA, the minimum cumulative GPA requirement is a 2.0 or higher, and for students pursuing a minor the minimum cumulative GPA is a 2.3 or higher in all applicable course work.

More information on Indianapolis grade policies can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Hours Requirements

Students must successfully complete a minimum of 120 credit hours. However, the Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science requires 122 credit hours. The campus at which a student completes the plurality of course work will award the degree, provided that campus is authorized to grant the degree/major/concentration and that the student has been admitted to that campus. Students may transfer no more than 90 credit hours (60 credits from a junior college) toward a Bachelor of Science degree or 30 credit hours toward an Associate of Science degree. Class standing, based on total credit hours that count toward minimum degree requirements, is as follows: senior, 86 or more; junior, 56-85; sophomore, 26-55; freshman, fewer than 26.

Transfer Course Policy

For the Indianapolis campus policies on transferring credits, please go to <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Degrees Awarded with Distinction

SPEA recognizes outstanding performance by awarding bachelor's and associate degrees with three levels of distinction to students. The levels of distinction are as follows:

- highest: 3.90 and above
- high: 3.70 through 3.89
- distinction: 3.50 through 3.69

Requirements for a Second Bachelor's Degree—Bloomington and Indianapolis

Students must petition for approval to work toward a second bachelor's degree. If permission is granted, students are required to take 30 credit hours beyond the credits used for the first bachelor's degree and satisfy all the requirements for the second degree. Generally, SPEA encourages students to work toward a graduate degree rather than a second bachelor's degree.

Programs

The Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs offers a wide range of undergraduate programs on the Bloomington-Indianapolis core campuses. The undergraduate degrees are the Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs (B.S.P.A.), the Bachelor of Science in Public Health (B.S.P.H.), the Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice (B.S.C.J.), Bachelor of Science in Arts Management (B.S.A.M.) and, through a joint program with the College of Arts and Sciences, a Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science (B.S.E.S.). In addition, the undergraduate program includes minors and certificate programs.

On July 1, 2008, the Divisions of Public and Environmental Affairs located on the Fort Wayne, Kokomo, Northwest (Gary), and East (Richmond) campuses became SPEA affiliated programs. As affiliated programs these divisions will continue to offer the SPEA curriculum approved for their campus; will continue to grant SPEA degrees to students who fulfill the necessary degree requirements; and will continue to use the SPEA name for academic purposes. Courses will continue to be transferable between the affiliated programs and the Bloomington-

Indianapolis core campus programs. Not all degrees, minors, and certificates are offered at all campuses.

About the Bachelor of Science Degree Programs

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs recognizes the complex problems facing our society such as global climate change, hazardous waste, escalating health care costs, balance of trade, and international relations. Through the four bachelor of science degree programs, the students develop problem-solving abilities and organizational skills so that they may contribute possible solutions to these and other problems.

More than ever, people who take on leadership roles in society—whether as professionals or volunteers—need formal training in managing staff, fiscal resources, information, public relations and marketing, and technology. With its focus on managing resources and solving problems, the Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs (B.S.P.A.) degree prepares students for careers in diverse areas such as federal, state, and local politics and administration; public policy evaluation; management consulting; public relations; management of nonprofit organizations; and monitoring, assessment, and amelioration of environmental problems—to name only a few. Majors in the degree program include: management, legal studies, public and nonprofit management, policy analysis, public financial management, and environmental management. Students who choose to continue with their education after earning an undergraduate degree frequently study law, planning, public affairs, environmental science, or business administration.

There is a critical need for scientists who can incorporate their expertise into policies that address environmental concerns, such as global climate change, pollution of water and air, conservation of endangered species and habitats, urban sprawl, and human illnesses caused by environmental problems. To meet that need, the School of Public and Environmental Affairs and the College of Arts and Sciences developed the Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science (B.S.E.S.) degree, a unique cooperative program between two leading schools at Indiana University. Designed as a rigorous interdisciplinary science curriculum, the degree prepares students either for direct entry into an environmental science career or for graduate study in the traditional sciences or environmental science.

Both government and private organizations are seeking ways to maintain or improve the quality of health care in the United States. At the same time, there is an increasing need to control skyrocketing costs. The Bachelor of Science in Public Health (B.S.P.H.) prepares students to meet those challenges. The Health Administration major prepares students for health management careers by developing their organizational, analytical, managerial, and leadership skills. Graduates often pursue careers in the public, private, or nonprofit sector in areas such as public health, environmental health, health administration, epidemiology, or health policy and planning. B.S.P.H. students have gone on for post-baccalaureate training in diverse areas such as public health, health administration, public affairs, law, business administration, and environmental science and policy.

Now more than ever, institutions in the arts need a well trained, dedicated cadre of administrators able to navigate minefields underlying financial pressures, organizational constraints, and shifts in competitive entertainment, as well as consumer interest. The Bachelor of Science in Arts Management (B.S.A.M.) degree provides undergraduate students with the background and skills necessary to function in the management aspects of the arts industry. Graduates of this degree program are prepared to seek entry level careers in areas such as: development and donor relations, marketing, audience development and public relations, artistic direction and programming, financial management, volunteer coordination, arts education, public policy, and advocacy.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Public Affairs

Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs

The Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs requires 120 credit hours. The Bloomington campus offers six majors: Environmental Management, Legal Studies, Management, Policy Analysis, Public and Nonprofit Management, and Public Financial Management.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The SPEA curriculum is divided into five categories—Common Ground, SPEA Preparation, Electives, Public Affairs Core, and a Major area. For students who enter Indiana University Bloomington in June 2011 or after, Common Ground and SPEA Preparation are required. SPEA General Education is in effect for students who matriculated to Indiana University Bloomington prior to Spring 2011 or before.

Common Ground

Courses taken for Common Ground may simultaneously be used for the SPEA Preparation below as well as the SPEA Core. However, the number of unique credit hours taken in all three sections together must total at least 60 credit hours. Choose remaining credit hours from Campus Common Ground Lists (additional selections from Foundations, Breadth of Inquiry, and World Languages and Cultures).

See <http://www.iu.edu/~bulletin/iub/general-education/2013-2014/index.shtml> for updated requirements and a complete list of course options.

SPEA Preparation (21 cr.)

Communications (6 cr.)

Professional Writing (One of the following courses)

- ENG-W 231 Professional Writing Skills (3 cr.)
- ENG-W 240 Community Service Writing (3 cr.)

- BUS-C 104 Business Presentations (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 121 Public Speaking (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 122 Interpersonal Communication (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 205 Introduction to Communication and Culture (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 225 Discussion and Decision Making (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 228 Argumentation and Advocacy (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 229 Ways of Speaking (3 cr.)
- THTR-T 120 Acting I (3 cr.)

Quantitative Methods (12 cr.)

Computer Course (One of the following courses)

- SPEA-V 261 Computers in Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- BUS-K 201 The Computer in Business (2-3 cr.)
- CSCI-A 110 Introduction to Computers and Computing (3 cr.)
- CSCI-A 201 Introduction to Programming I (4 cr.)

Each of the following courses:

- SPEA-K 300 Statistical Techniques (3 cr.)
- ECON-E 201 Introduction to Microeconomics (3 cr.)
- ECON-E 202 Introduction to Microeconomics (3 cr.)
- POLS-Y 103 Introduction to American Politics (3 cr.)

General Electives

Additional courses beyond the general education, core, and major requirements are needed to complete the minimum of 120 hours required for the degree.

Public Affairs Core

(Five courses)

- SPEA-E 162 Environment and People (3 cr.) or SPEA-E 272 Introduction to Environmental Sciences (3 cr.)
Note: Environmental Management majors must select SPEA-E 272.
- SPEA-V 160 National and International Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 161 Urban Problems and Solutions (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 220 Law and Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 372 Government Finance and Budgets (3 cr.)

Experiential Learning Requirement

- SPEA-V 252 Career Development and Planning (2 cr.) and
- SPEA-V 381 Professional Experience (1 cr.)

Each B.S.P.A. student is required to complete an internship experience. Internships give students an excellent opportunity to apply classroom theory and techniques to real-life experiences. Students should register for SPEA-V 252 the first semester they are accepted into the program.

In order for an internship to satisfy the experiential learning requirement (V 381), students must:

- Be officially admitted to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs
- Earn a passing grade in SPEA-V 252
- Successfully complete a minimum of one class in their major/concentration with a passing grade
- Be in overall good academic standing
- Be at least a junior
- Receive internship approval from the Office of Career Services before beginning the internship experience.

All students admitted to SPEA in the fall of 2008 and thereafter who have completed either ASCS-Q 299 Job Search Strategies for Liberal Arts Students or ASCS-Q 294 Basic Career Development and ASCS-Q 275 Professional Portfolio Development with a grade of "S" (passing) prior to admission to SPEA are not required to complete SPEA-V 252 Career Development. These students are still required to register for and complete an internship experience. Specific enrollment instructions and authorization will be provided to these students by the SPEA Career Services.

- SPEA-V 450 Contemporary Issues in Public Affairs (3 cr.) Approved Topics; may be repeated for credit
- SPEA-V 462 Community Development (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 463 Interpersonal Relations in the Workplace (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 482 Overseas Topics in Public Affairs (0-15 cr.)

B. Nonprofit Management Track

The following two courses:

- SPEA-V 221 Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 362 Nonprofit Management and Leadership (3 cr.)

Five courses from the following, chosen in consultation with a faculty advisor

- SPEA-V 263 Public Management (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 348 Management Science (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 356 Introduction to Nonprofit Accounting and Reporting (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 368 Managing Government Operations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 369 Managing Information Technology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 373 Human Resources Management in the Public Sector (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 379 Performance Measurement and Program Evaluation (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 401 Financial and Cost-Benefit Analysis (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 412 Leadership and Ethics (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 432 Labor Relations in the Public Sector (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 435 Negotiation and Alternative Dispute Resolution (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 436 Communication for Government and Nonprofit Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 450 Contemporary Issues in Public Affairs (3 cr.) Approved topics; may be repeated for credit
- SPEA-V 458 Fund Development for Nonprofit Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 461 Computer Applications on Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 462 Community Development (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 463 Interpersonal Relations in the Workplace (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 475 Database Management Systems (3 cr.)

- SPEA-V 482 Overseas Topics in Public Affairs (0-15 cr.)
- JOUR-J 431 Public Relations for Nonprofits (3 cr.)

Public Financial Management Major

Requirements (Ten courses)

Each of the following courses:

- SPEA-V 246 Elements of Governmental and Nonprofit Financial Accounting Cycle (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 346 Introduction to Government Accounting and Financial Reporting (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 361 Financial Management (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 386 Case Studies for Policy Analysis (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 401 Financial and Cost-Benefit Analysis (3 cr.)

Five of the Following Courses:

- SPEA-E 340 Environmental Economics and Finance (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 352 Health Finance and Budgeting (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 353 Advanced Health Finance and Budgeting (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 354 Health Economics (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 348 Management Science (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 369 Managing Information Technology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 379 Performance Measurement and Program Evaluation (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 412 Leadership Ethics (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 421 Metropolitan Development (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 441 Topics in Financial Management and Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 442 Topics in Budgeting or Cost-Benefit (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 461 Computer Applications in Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 462 Community Development (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 475 Database Management (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 482 Overseas Topics in Public Affairs (0-15 cr.)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Public Health

Bachelor of Science in Public Health

This 120 credit hour degree program offers a major in Health Administration.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Students must satisfy requirements in five main areas: Common Ground, SPEA Preparation, Electives, a Public Health Core, and the Health Administration required courses. For students who enter Indiana University Bloomington in June 2011 or after, Common Ground and SPEA Preparation are required. SPEA General Education is in effect for students who matriculated to Indiana University Bloomington prior to June 2011.

Common Ground

Courses taken for Common Ground may simultaneously be used for SPEA Preparation below as well as the SPEA Core. However, the number of unique credit hours taken in all three sections together must total at least 63 credit hours. Choose remaining credit hours from Campus Common Ground Lists (additional selections from Foundations, Breadth of Inquiry, and World Languages and Cultures). See <http://www.iu.edu/~bulletin/iub/general-education/2012-2013/> for updated requirements and a complete list of course options.

SPEA Preparation (21 cr.)

Communications (6 cr.)

Professional Writing (One of the following courses)

- ENG-W 231 Elementary Composition (3 cr.) or approved option (C– or higher)
- ENG-W 240 Community Service Writing (3 cr.)
- BUS-X 204 Business Communications (3 cr.)

Oral Communication (One of the following courses)

- CMCL-C 121 Public Speaking (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 122 Interpersonal Communication (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 205 Introduction to Communication and Culture (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 225 Discussion and Decision Making (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 228 Argumentation and Advocacy (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 229 Ways of Speaking (3 cr.)
- THTR-T 120 Acting I (3 cr.)
- BUS-X 104 Business Presentations (3 cr.)

Quantitative Methods(12 cr.)

Computer Course (One of the following courses)

- SPEA-V 261 Computers in Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- BUS-K 201 The Computer in Business (3 cr.)
- CSCI-A 110 Introduction to Computers and Computing (3 cr.)
- CSCI-A 201 Introduction to Programming (4 cr.)

Each of the following courses:

- SPEA-K 300 Statistical Techniques (3 cr.)
- ECON-E 201 Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 cr.)
- ECON-E 202 Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 cr.)

American Government Foundations (3 cr.)

- POLS-Y 103 Introduction to American Politics (3 cr.)

Electives

Additional courses beyond the general education, core, and major requirements are needed to complete the minimum of 120 hours required for the degree.

Public Health Core (six courses)

- SPEA-H 124 Health Care Management and Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 316 Environmental Health (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 322 Principles of Epidemiology (3 cr.) or HPER-H 311 Human Diseases and Epidemiology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 342 Community Health Education (3 cr.) or HPER-C 403 Public Health Program Planning (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 160 National and International Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 236 Management Concepts and Applications I in Public and Private Organizations (3 cr.)

Experiential Learning Requirement

- SPEA-H 267 Career Development and Planning
- SPEA-H 466 Public Health Field Experience

Each B.S.P.H. student is required to complete an internship experience. Internships give students an excellent opportunity to apply classroom theory and techniques to real life experiences. Students should register for SPEA-H 267 the first semester they are accepted into the program.

In order for an internship to satisfy the experiential learning requirement (SPEA-H 466), students must:

- Be officially admitted to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs
- Earn a passing grade in SPEA-H 267
- Successfully complete a minimum of one class in their major/concentration with a passing grade
- Be in overall good academic standing
- Be at least a sophomore
- Receive internship approval from the Office of Career Development before beginning the internship experience

All students admitted to SPEA in the fall 2008 and thereafter who have completed either ASCS-Q 299 Job Search Strategies for Liberal Arts Students or ASCS-Q 294 Basic Career Development and ASCS-Q 275 Professional Portfolio Development with a grade of "S" (passing) prior to admission to SPEA are not required to complete SPEA-H 267 Career Development. These students are still required to register for and complete an internship experience. Specific enrollment instructions and authorization will be provided to these students by SPEA Office of Career Development.

Health Administration Major

Requirements (12 courses)

The following seven courses:

- SPEA-H 341 Legal Aspects of Health Care Administration (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 352 Health Finance I (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 353 Health Finance II (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 354 Health Economics (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 365 Health Services Practicum (1 cr.)
- SPEA-H 374 Health Management Ethics (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 373 Human Resources Management in the Public Sector (3 cr.)

Five of the following courses:

- SPEA-H 324 Health Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 401 Strategic Planning for Health Care Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 402 Hospital Administration (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 411 Chronic and Long-Term Care Administration (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 432 Health Care Marketing (3 cr.)
- SPEA-H 455 Topics in Public Health (3 cr.) May be repeated
- SPEA-H 456 Health Care Reimbursement (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E 316 Insects and the Environment (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 379 Performance Measurement and Program Evaluation (3 cr.)

- SPEA-V 432 Labor Relations in the Public Sector (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 482 Overseas Topics in Public Affairs (0-15 cr.)

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Environmental Science

Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science

The Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science, which is offered jointly by the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, is an integrated course of study in the applied natural and physical sciences. For students who enter Indiana University Bloomington in June 2011 or after, Common Ground is required. SPEA General Education is in effect for students who matriculated to Indiana University Bloomington prior to June 2011.

Common Ground

See <http://www.iu.edu/~bulletin/iub/general-education/2013-2014/index.shtml> for updated requirements and a complete list of course options.

Required Courses - General Education Requirements (29-30 credit hours)

- English Composition: one course (3 cr.) from the approved list.
- Mathematical Modeling: satisfied by either MATH-M211 or MATH-M119 (required below).
- Natural and Mathematical Sciences: satisfied by the requirements below.
- World Languages and Cultures: a minimum of 6 credit hours of General Education-approved courses or demonstrated proficiency in an approved foreign language.
- Arts and Humanities: 6 credit hours of General Education-approved A&H courses. CMCL-C121 Public Speaking (required below) satisfies 3 of the 6 required credits.
- Social and Historical Studies: 6 credit hours of General Education-approved courses. BSES students are encouraged to consider the following courses: SPEA-V220 Law and Public Affairs (3 cr.), CMCL-C212 Communicating Sustainability (3 cr.), ECON-E201 Introduction to Microeconomics (3 cr.), and ECON-E202 Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 cr.).

BSES Foundation Courses - (Mathematics, Statistics, and Computation 12-15 credit hours, depending on course selections)

- MATH-M211 Calculus I (4 cr.) or MATH-M119 Brief Survey of Calculus I (3 cr.) and MATH-M120 Brief Survey of Calculus II (3 cr.)
- SPEA-K300 Statistical Techniques (3 cr.) or STAT-K310 Statistical Techniques (3 cr.) or MATH-K310 Statistical Techniques (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G250 Computer Methods in Geography (3 cr.) or SPEA-E325 Computing for Environmental Scientists (2 cr.)

Select at least one course from the following list:

- MATH-M212 Calculus II (4 cr.)

- MATH-M343 Introduction to Differential Equations with Applications I (3 cr.)
- MATH-M365 Introduction to Probability and Statistics (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E426 Applied Math for Environmental Science (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G488 Applied Spatial Statistics (3 cr.)
- CSCI-A321 Computing Tools for Scientific Research (4 cr.)

Note: Students interested in physical sciences, such as hydrology or atmospheric modeling, should take both MATH-M212 and MATH-M343.

Chemistry (10 cr.)

- CHEM-C117 Fundamentals of Chemistry and Biochemistry (3 cr.) and CHEM-C127 Fundamentals of Chemistry and Biochemistry Laboratory (2 cr.)

Select one of the following:

- CHEM-C341 Organic Chemistry I Lectures (3 cr.) and CHEM-C343 Organic Chemistry I Laboratory (2 cr.)
- CHEM-R340 Survey of Organic Chemistry (3 cr.) and CHEM-A314 Biological and Environmental Analysis (2 cr.)
- CHEM-N330 Intermediate Inorganic Chemistry (5 cr.)

Biology (6 cr.)

- BIOL-L111 Intro to Biology: Evolution and Diversity (3 cr.)
- BIOL-L112 Intro to Biology: Biological Mechanisms (3 cr.)

Physics (10 cr.)

Select one of the following sequences:

- PHYS-P201 General Physics I (5 cr.) and PHYS-P202 General Physics II (5 cr.)
- PHYS-P221 Physics I (5 cr.) and PHYS-P222 Physics II (5 cr.)

Communication (9 cr.)

- ENG-W231 Professional Writing Skills (3 cr.) or ENG-W240 Community Service Writing (3 cr.) or ENG-W270 Argumentative Writing (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C121 Public Speaking (3 cr.) or CMCL-C228 Argumentation and Public Advocacy (3 cr.) or CMCL-C229 Ways of Speaking (3 cr.) or SPEA-V260 Speaking, Listening, and Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- An additional course to satisfy the College of Arts and Sciences Intensive Writing Requirement. This requirement applies to all BSES students. For a current list of Intensive Writing courses, see the Special Course Listings on the Registrar's website at <http://registrar.indiana.edu/specialcourse.shtml>.

Environmental Science Courses (30 cr.)

One of the following courses:

- BIOL-L222 The City as Ecosystem (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G171 Environmental Geology (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G107 Physical Systems of the Environment (3 cr.)

- GEOG-G208 Human/Environment Interactions (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E272 Introduction to Environmental Science (3 cr.)

Additional courses from the following list that total at least 27 credit hours. Students are strongly encouraged to select courses in consultation with an academic advisor or environmental science faculty member.

- BIOL-M211 Molecular Biology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-M250 Microbiology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-M255 Microbiology Laboratory (2 cr.)
- BIOL-L311 Genetics (3 cr.)
- BIOL-L319 Genetics Laboratory (3 cr.)
- BIOL-L318 Evolution (3 cr.)
- BIOL-B371 Ecological Plant Physiology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-Z374 Invertebrate Zoology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-Z375 Invertebrate Zoology Laboratory (2 cr.)
- BIOL-L376 Biology of Birds (4 cr.)
- BIOL-L465 Advanced Field Biology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-L472 Microbial Ecology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-L473 Ecology (3 cr.)
- BIOL-L474 Field and Laboratory Ecology (2 cr.)
- BIOL-Z476 Biology of Fishes (3 cr.)
- CHEM-N330 Intermediate Inorganic Chemistry (5 cr.)
- CHEM-C361 Physical Chemistry of Bulk Matter (3 cr.)
- CHEM-C362 Physical Chemistry of Molecules (3 cr.)
- CHEM-P364 Basic Measurements in Physical Chemistry (2 cr.)
- GEOG-G304 Physical Climatology (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G305 Environmental Change – Nature and Impact (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G307 Biogeography: The Distribution of Life (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G336 Environmental Remote Sensing (3 cr.) or SPEA-E419 Applied Remote Sensing of the Environment (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G338 Geographic Information Science (3 cr.) or SPEA-E418 Vector-based GIS (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G350 Field Methods in Physical Geography (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G405 Ecological Climatology (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G436 Advanced Remote Sensing: Digital Image Processing (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G438 Advanced Geographic Information Science (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G444 Climate Change Impacts (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G451 Water Resources (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G477 Topics in Climatology (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G488 Applied Spatial Statistics (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G489 Advanced Geospatial Data Analysis (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G225 Earth Materials (4 cr.)
- GEOL-G316 Mineral Fuels and Materials (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G328 Energy, Resources, and the Environment (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G334 Principles of Sedimentology and Stratigraphy (4 cr.)
- GEOL-G339 Weather Analysis and Forecasting (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G341 Natural History of Coral Reefs (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G347 Instrumentation for Atmospheric Sciences (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G351 Elements of Hydrology (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G364 Dynamic Meteorology: Boundary-Layer Meteorology (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G406 Introduction to Geochemistry (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G413 Introduction to Geophysics (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G415 Geomorphology (3 cr.)
- GEOL-G423 Methods in Applied Geophysics (4 cr.)
- GEOL-G444 Methods in Analytical Geochemistry (1-2 cr.)
- GEOL-G451 Principles of Hydrogeology (3 cr.)
- PHYS-P310 Environmental Physics (3 cr.)
- PHYS-P317 Signals and Information Processing in Living Systems (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E400 Topics in Environmental Studies: Plants and Plant Communities (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E410 Introduction to Environmental Toxicology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E411 Introduction to Groundwater Hydrology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E426 Applied Math for Environmental Science (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E431 Water Supply and Wastewater Treatment (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E440 Wetlands: Biology and Regulation (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E442 Habitat Analysis-Terrestrial (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E443 Habitat Analysis-Aquatic (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E451 Air Pollution and Control (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E455 Limnology (4 cr.)
- SPEA-E457 Introduction to Conservation Biology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E460 Fisheries and Wildlife Management (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E461 Fisheries and Wildlife Management Laboratory (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E464 Organic Pollutants: Env Chemistry and Fate (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E490 Directed Research in Environmental Science (1-4 cr.) or BIOL-L490 Individual Study (1-4 cr.) or GEOG-G450 Undergraduate Research in Geography (1-3 cr.), or GEOL-G410 Undergraduate Research in Geology (1-6 cr.). BSES students are encouraged to pursue independent research, however no more than 6 credits total of SPEA-E490, BIOL-L490, GEOG-G450, or GEOL-G410 may be used to satisfy the 27 credit hours of environmental science course work.
- Or other courses in environmental science approved by the BSES Program Chair

Field Experience Requirement (5-6 cr.)

Select one of the following options:

- GEOL-G329 Introductory Field Experience in Environmental Science (5-6 cr.). This course is a summer course held at the Geologic Field Station in Montana and is typically taken after the sophomore year or course work at an approved biological field station. Students interested in this option should consult the BSES Program Chair prior to attending the field station. Courses used to satisfy the Field

Experience Requirement cannot be used to satisfy any other degree requirement.

Two of the following courses:

- BIOL-L465 Advanced Field Biology (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E442 Habitat Analysis-Terrestrial (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E443 Habitat Analysis-Aquatic (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E400 Topics in Environmental Studies: Plants and Plant Communities (3 cr.)
- GEOG-G350 Field Methods in Physical Geography (3 cr.)

Electives

Sufficient additional courses to reach a total of 120 credit hours. Students are encouraged to pursue a minor, certificate, or second major in a biological, physical, or social science field that complements the interdisciplinary training provided by the B.S. in Environmental Science.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Arts Management

Bachelor of Science in Arts Management

The Bachelor of Science in Arts Management Degree requires 120 credit hours. The curriculum is divided into seven categories—Common Ground, SPEA Preparation, General Electives, Arts Core, Management Core, Arts Management Core, and Experiential Learning. For students who enter Indiana University Bloomington in June 2011 or after, Common Ground and SPEA Preparation are required. SPEA General Education is in effect for students who matriculated to Indiana University Bloomington prior to June 2011.

Common Ground

See for updated requirements and a complete list of course options.

SPEA Preparation (21 cr.)

Communications (6 cr.)

Professional Writing (One of the following courses)

- ENG-W 231 Professional Writing Skills (3 cr.)
- ENG-W 240 Community Service Writing (3 cr.)
- BUS-C 204 Business Communications (3 cr.)

Oral Communication (One of the following courses)

- CMCL-C 121 Public Speaking (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 122 Interpersonal Communication (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 205 Introduction to Communication and Culture (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 225 Discussion and Decision Making (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 228 Argumentation and Advocacy (3 cr.)
- CMCL-C 229 Ways of Speaking (3 cr.)
- THTR-T 120 Acting I (3 cr.)
- BUS-C 104 Business Presentations (3 cr.)

Quantitative Methods (12 cr.)

Computer Course (One of the following courses)

- SPEA-V 261 Computers in Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- BUS-K 201 The Computer in Business (3 cr.)
- CSCI-A 110 Introduction to Computers & Computing (3 cr.)

- CSCI-A 201 Introduction to Programming I (3 cr.)

Each of the following courses:

- SPEA-K 300 Statistical Techniques (3cr.)
- ECON-E 201 Introduction to Microeconomics (3 cr.)
- ECON-E 202 Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 cr.)

American Government Foundations (3 cr.)

- POLS-Y 103 Introduction to American Politics (3 cr.)

General Electives

Additional courses beyond the general education, core, and major requirements are needed to complete the minimum of 120 hours required for the degree.

Suggested courses include:

- AMID-F 402 Collection Management for Historic Textiles and Costume
- AMID-F 403 Practicum on Collection Management
- ANTH-A 403 Introduction to Museum Studies
- ANTH-P 401 Cultural Resource Management
- BUS-L 250 Law and the Arts
- BUS-L 315 Law of Entertainment
- FINA-U 400 Sources and Resources: Professional Skills in Fine Arts
- THTR-T 428 Production and Event Management

Arts Core Requirement (Eight courses for a minimum of 24 credit hours)

Students are to select an area of arts specialization consisting of a minimum of 12 credit hours in one arts specialty. The remaining credit hours can be applied to any arts areas of the students' choosing. Suggested areas of specialization include: Anthropology, Art History, Dance, Ethnomusicology, Folklore, Music, Studio Fine Art, and Theater. Other proposed areas of arts interest will be considered by the faculty. At least 12 credit hours of the 24 Arts Core required credits should be in advanced level work (300 level or higher).

Management Core (Three courses for a minimum of 9 credit hours)

The following course:

- SPEA-V 362 Nonprofit Management and Leadership (3 cr.)

One of the following courses:

- SPEA-V 246 Elements of Governmental and Nonprofit Financial Accounting Cycles (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 372 Government Finance and Budgets (3 cr.)

One of the following courses:

- SPEA-V 220 Law and Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- BUS-L 201 Legal Environment of Business (3 cr.)

Arts Management Core (Nine courses for a minimum of 27 credit hours)

The following courses:

- SPEA-A 163 Art Worlds: Management, Markets, and Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 354 Arts Marketing Fundamentals (3 cr.)

Seven courses from the following:

- SPEA-A 236 Music Industry I (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 241 Inside Community Arts Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 336 Music Industry II (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 405 Programming in the Performing Arts (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 450 Contemporary Topics in Arts Administration (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 459 Public Policy and the Arts (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 464 The Economics and Administration of Arts Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-A 482 Overseas Topics in Arts Management (0-15 cr.)
- SPEA-V 236 Management Concepts and Applications I in Public and Private Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 336 Management Concepts and Applications II in Public and Private Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 361 Financial Management (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 373 Human Resource Management (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 377 Legal Process and Contemporary Issues in America (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 379 Performance Measurement and Program Evaluation (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 438 Mass Media and Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 458 Fund Development (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 473 Management, Leadership, and Policy (3 cr.)
- AADM-Y 412 Opera Management (3 cr.)

Experiential Requirement

- SPEA-V 252 Career Development and Planning
- SPEA-V 381 Professional Experience

Each student is required to complete an internship experience. Internships give students an excellent opportunity to apply classroom theory and techniques to real-life experiences. Students should register for SPEA-V 252 the first semester they are accepted into the program.

In order for an internship to satisfy the experiential learning requirement (V 381), students must:

- Be officially admitted to the School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Earn a passing grade in V252
- Successfully complete a minimum of one class in their major/concentration with a passing grade
- Be in overall good academic standing
- Be at least a junior
- Receive internship approval from the Office of Career Development before beginning the internship experience

All student admitted to SPEA in the fall of 2008 and thereafter who have completed either ASCS-Q 299 Job Search Strategies for Liberal Arts Students or ASCS-Q 294 Basic Career Development and ASCS-Q 275 Professional Portfolio Development with a grade of "S" (passing) prior to admission to SPEA are not required to complete SPEA-V 252 Career Development. These students are still required to register for and complete an internship experience. Specific enrollment instructions and authorization will be provided to these students by SPEA Office of Career Development.

Minimum Hours and Grade Point Averages

The B.S. in Arts Management Degree requires a minimum of 120 hours. Each student must maintain a 2.7 (B –) overall grade point average in the core and major requirements as well as a 2.3 (C+) cumulative grade point average in all course work taken at Indiana University in order to graduate.

Admission Information

SPEA requires students applying to its undergraduate programs to have completed 26 credit hours and a maximum of 75 credit hours. Students are required to complete the introductory course SPEA-A 163 and have a cumulative GPA of 2.7. Students should apply for admission when they are enrolled in the preadmissions course SPEA-A 163.

It is a competitive admission process. Admission decisions are based on the cumulative GPA, grade trends, and application statement. Application deadlines are May 1 for fall admission and December 1 for spring admission. Applications for the Bloomington program are available on the Web at: <http://helpnet.iu.edu/apps/speabl/undergradApplications/Default3.aspx>

Minors

Any Indiana University student enrolled in a bachelor's program may pursue one or more of the minors offered by the School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Individuals interested in one or more of these minors should inquire in the SPEA undergraduate advising office (SPEA 240) for additional details. Students should check with their degree-granting unit to make sure they are eligible for the SPEA minor of their choice. SPEA's multidisciplinary faculty and curricula address environmental, health, public policy, and management issues from a variety of perspectives. A minor in SPEA can enhance career opportunities for liberal arts and other majors.

General Policies and Procedures

Each minor requires 15 hours of specified courses with a 2.00 grade point average, and none of the courses may be taken by correspondence through the School of Continuing Studies. The Educational Policy minor requires students to have both a C or better in required courses and a 2.0 overall for the program. Admitted SPEA students earning a SPEA minor may double count up to six (6) credit hours of minor courses with any other SPEA academic program. Each SPEA minor must have at least nine (9) credit hours that do not count toward any other SPEA academic program. Non-SPEA Majors cannot double count courses with any SPEA academic program.

The following minor areas are available on the Bloomington campus:

Public and Environmental Affairs
 Education Policy
 Environmental Management
 Environmental Science and Health
 Health Systems Administration
 Human Resources
 Information Systems
 Law and Public Policy

Management
 Nonprofit Management
 Policy Studies
 Public Finance

Public and Environmental Affairs Minor

Requirements (Five courses)

One of the following courses:

- SPEA-V 160 National and International Policy (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 161 Urban Problems and Solutions (3 cr.)

One of the following courses:

- SPEA-E 162 Environment and People (3 cr.)
- SPEA-E 272 Introduction to Environmental Sciences (3 cr.)

Three of the following courses:

- SPEA-E 272 Introduction to Environmental Sciences (3 cr.) If not used above
- SPEA-E 400 Topics in Environmental Studies (3 cr.) May be repeated
- SPEA-V 220 Law and Public Affairs (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 236 Management Concepts and Applications I in Public and Private Organizations (3 cr.)
- SPEA-V 263 Public Management (3 cr.)

Certificate Programs

The areas of study in which certificate programs are currently available are: arts administration, environmental studies, nonprofit management, public affairs, public health, public management, and urban studies. The number of credits required for each certificate varies.

Arts Administration
 Environmental Studies
 Nonprofit Management
 Public Affairs
 Public Health
 Public Management
 Urban Studies
 Nonprofit Leadership Alliance

General Requirements

1. Students in good academic standing and enrolled in bachelor's programs at Indiana University are eligible to apply for a certificate at the SPEA Records Office (SPEA 253). Interested students must apply for a certificate before completing 15 credit hours of applicable course work.
2. Admitted SPEA students earning a SPEA certificate may double count up to six (6) credit hours of certificate requirements with any other SPEA academic program. The remaining SPEA certificate credit hours cannot be applied toward any other SPEA academic program. Non-SPEA majors cannot double count courses with any SPEA academic program.
3. SPEA students cannot earn a certificate in the same area as their major.
4. A grade point average of 2.0 or higher is required in all course work credited toward the certificate.

Certificate in Arts Administration

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs offers the Certificate in Arts Administration to provide undergraduate students in the College of Arts and Sciences and the Jacobs School of Music a coordinated set of course work and experiences in Arts Administration to complement their primary interest in the performing or visual arts.

The course work for the Certificate in Arts Administration expands students' management skills and opportunities for employment while enhancing their applied experiences in the arts.

Students applying for the Certificate in Arts Administration must have completed at least 24 undergraduate credits at Indiana University and compiled a cumulative grade point average of 2.7 or higher. Certificate students are expected to have a solid background in either the performing or visual arts.

Indianapolis Campus

- Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs (B.S.P.A)
- Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice (B.S.C.J.)
- Minors
- Certificate Programs

Indiana University founded the School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA) more than 40 years ago to prepare students to address the issues of modern society in ways that more traditional schools overlooked. At SPEA, people learn how to work in government, nonprofit and business roles to make positive changes in their communities, their states, their countries and the world.

SPEA graduates lead the organizations that make and enforce laws, keep communities livable and safe, shape smart public policy, protect the planet and help our fellow citizens. Through the combined study of civic leadership, management, policy studies, public affairs and media, criminal justice and public safety, SPEA students develop both the practical and philosophical skills that prepare them to develop solutions to society's problems.

SPEA Indianapolis offers two bachelor's degrees: a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs (BSPA) and a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice (BSCJ).

Within the Public Affairs degree, you can major in Civic Leadership, Management, Media and Public Affairs, Policy Studies or Sustainable Management and Policy. BSPA students learn how to address issues in government and nonprofit settings and prepare to become leaders in their communities, organizations and businesses. Careers for SPEA graduates with a BSPA include legislative staffer, urban planner, director of a nonprofit, lobbyist or financial or policy analyst. Others work in public affairs or government affairs for private companies or nonprofits. Still other BSPA graduates continue their educations in law, planning, public affairs or environmental management.

Within Criminal Justice, you can major in Criminal Justice or Public Safety Management.

The Criminal Justice major gives students a broad and layered understanding of the history, operations and implications of criminal justice in America. You will be trained to address pressing societal needs related to law enforcement, the judicial system, corrections and national security. With a BSCJ in Criminal Justice, you might work in law enforcement management at the local, state and federal levels, as well as in the courts, prisons and victim advocacy programs.

The Public Safety Management major covers the administration of emergency services, the principles of public safety and the art of decision-making. Public Safety Management graduates work in public safety agencies as well as private companies that focus on public management, emergency services, solid and hazardous waste management, public health and more.

Both majors are also excellent preparation for pursuing graduate studies in law or criminal justice.

More information can be found at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Public Affairs

Students pursuing the Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs (B.S.P.A.) may major in Civic Leadership, Media and Public Affairs, Management, Policy Studies, or Sustainable Management and Policy. Public Affairs majors focus on how we provide for our citizen, making our communities better places to live, work and raise a family. Public Affairs students study and analyze government policies, and learn how to manage government and nonprofit organizations.

- A Civic Leadership major teaches students how individuals and organizations can work together to provide for their communities. Graduates often work in public service roles - leading businesses, nonprofit organizations or government agencies. This major is ideal for pre-law student, or students interested in advocacy or community leadership.
- Media and Public Affairs gives students an in-depth understanding of governance plus the skills needed to use today's media to communicate to customers, constituents, employees, supporters, opponents and the many other audiences involved in shaping effective public policy. Students who major in Media and Public Affairs will be prepared for careers as public information officers; government affairs personnel for private or nonprofit organizations; public administrators at the local, state, and federal level; lobbyists; representatives of trade organizations; and reporters for various media on the subjects of public affairs, public administration, public policy personnel and decisions. This major teaches anyone who intends to go in to management (public, private or nonprofit) or who will work in the policy area, when and how to deploy traditional and new media tools to achieve their goals.
- A Management major teaches some of the things you'd learn in a business school, but you get the additional benefit of learning how public agencies and nonprofit organizations operate. This holistic approach helps graduates move seamlessly between business, nonprofit and government management roles.
- A Policy Studies major prepares students to analyze and assess the usefulness of existing and proposed laws. This major emphasizes critical thinking skills. Graduates often go on to law school or directly into positions in government or government relations.
- A major gives students a solid understanding of public affairs, finance, policy-making and civic engagement, combined with specialized classes in the principles of sustainability, environmental justice and green technologies. Graduates of the program will find employment in the growing field of sustainability by assuming community and government roles, working for environmental nonprofit groups, owning or managing "green" businesses, and conducting research and legislative analysis. This major is also an excellent choice for a pre-law student.

For course requirements and other information, please go to <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice (B.S.C.J.)

Students pursuing the Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice (B.S.C.J.) may major in Criminal Justice or Public Safety Management. Criminal Justice students learn to protect communities and their citizens.

- Students majors in Criminal Justice study law enforcement, the judicial system, corrections and national security.
- Students who major in Public Safety Management focus on large-scale disaster preparedness, homeland security and delivery of lifesaving services including fire fighting, emergency medical services and disaster recovery.

For course requirements and other information, please go to <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Special Programs

- Accelerated Master's Program
- Executive Education Program
- Honors Program
- Indiana Law Enforcement and Indianapolis Fire Department Academy Credits
- Indiana Leadership Seminar
- Overseas Education
- Washington Leadership Program

Honors Program

SPEA's Honors Program indulges the talents and creativity of SPEA undergraduates who excel in the classroom and who are destined for leadership roles in their chosen discipline. Prior to being invited to the Bloomington SPEA Honors Program, students must complete a minimum of 26 credit hours of course work with at least a 3.5 cumulative and 3.5 SPEA grade point average. In all cases, the student must be currently enrolled as a SPEA major or applying (or preparing to apply) for SPEA admission. To maintain eligibility in the program, all students must maintain a cumulative and SPEA GPA of at least 3.5. All SPEA majors with at least a minimum cumulative and SPEA GPA of 3.5 at the end of their freshman year will be invited to join the Honors Program.

On the Bloomington campus, benefits of the SPEA Honors Program include: confirmation of a diploma "With Public and Environmental Affairs Honors" notation; advanced course work and opportunities for in-depth research projects with SPEA faculty; interaction with like-minded students in the SPEA Honors Program and the Hutton Honors College; competitively awarded funding opportunities to support academic related travel, research projects, and internships through the Hutton Honors College; automatic admission to SPEA's prestigious Scholars in Global Citizenship, and provisional admission to Washington Leadership Program, IU at Oxford Summer Program, and the accelerated Master of Public Affairs or Environmental Science degree programs; and counsel from an Honors Program Advisor.

On the Indianapolis campus, information regarding the IUPUI Honors College can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin website at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Benefits of this program include advanced coursework, opportunities for community service, interaction with like-minded students, participation in honors events and the IUPUI Honor Societies, eligibility for residence in the IUPUI Honors House, opportunities for research with faculty, and funding to support academic-related research and travel.

Accelerated Master's Program

On the Bloomington campus, the Accelerated Master's Program (A.M.P.) is a competitive program for outstanding SPEA undergraduate students. Students may apply to the Master of Public Affairs (M.P.A.) or the Master of Science in Environmental Science (M.S.E.S.) programs early in their junior year.

Participation in this program allows the student to fulfill some graduate program requirements during the senior year. Graduate courses count for both graduate and undergraduate degree requirements. For additional information, students should contact the appropriate graduate program director.

For students who wish to enroll in the Accelerated Masters Program, the following are required:

- B.S.P.A. students should have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 and B.S.E.S. students should have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 for the MSES program.
- Students accepted into the program may begin when they have earned 96 credit hours in the undergraduate degree program, including specified courses in the major.
- Students must have completed the undergraduate internship prior to starting the masters coursework and if an honors student, must have completed their honors thesis requirements.
- Before starting the graduate program, students must have satisfied all general education requirements for their bachelor's degree.

On the Indianapolis campus the Accelerated Master's Program (A.M.P.) is a competitive program for outstanding SPEA students. Students may apply to the Master of Public Affairs (M.P.A.) or the Master of Science in Criminal Justice and Public Safety (M.S.C.J.P.S.) programs early in their junior year.

Information on the Accelerated Master's Program can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Executive Education Program

The Executive Education Program is one of the most prestigious leadership programs in the nation. Offered through the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, the Executive Education Program works with the government, nonprofit agencies, and the private sector to prepare leaders and managers to meet today's challenges and anticipate tomorrow's opportunities.

The Executive Education Program offers graduate-level programs at four sites nationally: Washington, D.C.; Seattle, Washington; Indianapolis, Indiana, for the United States Navy; and Louisville, Kentucky, for the United States Army Corps of Engineers. Graduate programs include the Master of Public Affairs (M.P.A.), the Public Management Certificate, and the Environmental Management Certificate.

The Executive Education Program has formed a partnership with the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials (AASHTO), which also meets in Indianapolis. Together, they have created two institutes to challenge and educate transportation managers and leaders. The National Transportation Leadership Institute and the Graduate Leadership/Management Institute are two of the most influential programs for transportation management.

The Executive Education Program's partnership with the Indiana Health and Hospital Association (EHHA) created a 10-course management institute for health care officials in Indiana to help them lead their organizations through the continually changing health care industry. The Executive Education Program has also partnered with Goodwill Industries of Central Indiana and the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department to develop specialized 15 credit hour graduate certificates for emerging leaders.

SPEA's Executive Education Program also offers customized leadership and management programs for local and national clients.

Overseas Education

All SPEA Abroad programs give students the opportunity to earn credit hours from overseas study combined with travel to important foreign locations where SPEA instructors collaborate with faculty from partner institutions to offer special programs taught in English. In addition, SPEA Abroad programs include supplementary introductions to the language, culture, and history of each foreign location with special classes, lectures, and excursions that go beyond the credit earning requirements of the formal classroom. Course topics and credit vary by program, but credit is generally given for SPEA-V 482, SPEA-E 482, SPEA-A 482, and other topics courses included as part of a SPEA major. Subjects include public and nonprofit management, public policy and policy analysis, comparative and international administration, and environmental science. For more information about SPEA overseas education programs, see www.spea-abroad.info/

The SPEA commitment to overseas study is currently supported by a special scholarship program in which eligible students receive $2,000 ($1,000 for programs with 3 or fewer credit hours) when they participate in SPEA Abroad. Please note that SPEA Overseas Education Scholarships are available only to SPEA majors and that scholarship availability is re-evaluated on an annual basis.

Students are also encouraged to explore the many IU overseas credit offerings originating outside of SPEA. Many study abroad programs approved by the IU Office of Overseas Study can, with the approval of a SPEA advisor, count as part of a SPEA major or minor. In short, Indiana University offers many overseas education programs, and IUB students are advised to make use of the Overseas Study Resource Center on the third floor of Franklin Hall for more information.

IUPUI students should consult with SPEA Student Services at BS 3025 (317-274-4656) on the Indianapolis campus and can find more information on the SPEA-IUPUI website <http://www.spea.iupui.edu/>.

Washington Leadership Program

IU's School of Public and Environmental Affairs proudly offers the Washington Leadership Program each fall semester in Washington, D.C. The Washington Leadership Program is a unique opportunity for talented undergraduate students to receive in-depth exposure to key policy makers and government officials in our nation's capital.

Juniors and Seniors from all majors on the Bloomington campus and SPEA majors at other IU campuses are eligible to apply. This program consists of two senior-level seminars (each worth 3 credit hours) and an internship (worth 6 credit hours). Students complete internships by working four days per week in an assigned congressional or senate office, trade association, or federal agency, or in a health, environmental, or nonprofit organization.

Interested students should visit the WLP website at www.iuindc.indiana.edu for more information and to apply.

Indiana Leadership Seminar

The Indiana Leadership Seminar offers senior honor students a chance to participate in research projects with a state agency. The focus is to develop professional skills and provide networking opportunities for future career connections as students apply classroom theory to real-world problems. The Indiana Leadership Seminar will complete the requirement of the major capstone course for students enrolled for the full year, both fall and spring semesters. Interested students should contact their academic advisor or program director.

Indiana Law Enforcement and Indianapolis Fire Department Academy Credits

Information on receiving credit for training can be found on the SPEA-IUPUI bulletin at <http://bulletin.iupui.edu/>.

Courses

The Abbreviation "P" refers to course prerequisites and "R" to recommended prerequisite courses. Prerequisites can be waived by the instructor of the course. The number of hours of credit is indicated in parentheses following the course title. Courses are listed in five groups: arts management, criminal justice, environmental, public health, and public affairs.

This course examines the historical development of the U.S. correctional system; the study of administration of local, state, and federal corrections programs, including jails, probation, community corrections, and prisons. Includes the study of punishment rationales, current correctional policies, and possibilities for reform.

SPEA-J 355 Global Criminal Justice Perspectives (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. An international review of select criminal justice perspectives and systems within the primary legal traditions of common, civil, Islamic, and socialist systems, as well as those that do not fit into established categories, such as Native American and African tribal justice.

SPEA-J 369 Private Justice: Police, Courts, and Corrections (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. This course examines the role of private policing and security, courts and adjudication, and corrections. Includes legislative and ethical issues and the economics of criminal and juvenile justice privatization. Principles of loss prevention, protection of assets, relationship between public and private services, and current issues in privatization will be discussed.

SPEA-J 370 Seminar in Criminal Justice (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101 Selected contemporary topics in criminal justice. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-J 376 Principles of Public Safety (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. Examination of threats to public safety and of governmental response at various levels to those threats. Treatment of areas such as transportation and highway threats; occupational safety and health; criminal threats; emergency and disaster planning; consumer protection; and fire control and suppression. Discussion of techniques to identify and measure risk, the acceptability of risk, and governmental attempts to control risk.

SPEA-J 380 Internship in Criminal Justice (0-6 cr.) P: Permission of instructor. Open to interested students who qualify upon approval of the faculty. Students may be placed with various criminal justice agencies for assignment to defined tasks relevant to their educational interests. Tasks may involve staff work or research. Full-time participants may earn up to 6 credit hours. Course is graded S /F (Satisfactory /Fail). May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-J 381 Professional Experience (1-6 cr.) Students will be required to fulfill a minimum of 120 hours of relevant professional work experience Course is graded S /F (Satisfactory /Fail).

SPEA-J 382 Foundations of Emergency Management (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 150 and SPEA-J 101 A history of emergency management and the four phases-mitigation, preparedness, response, and recovery. An examination of the concepts of hazard, risk and vulnerability and the history, current issues, alternative career paths, roles of local, state, and federal governments in emergency management, and the future outlook of emergency management.

SPEA-J 387 Foundations of Homeland Security (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 150 and SPEA-J 101 (Indianapolis and Kokomo only) Examination of the theory and research driving homeland security and emergency management measures and an analytical look at the practices and principles of homeland security from an empirical perspective.

SPEA-J 426 Mapping and Analysis for Public Safety (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101 or J 150. The use of geographic information systems to map locations of events and analyze patterns for decision making in areas of public safety including criminal justice, fire services, emergency management, and homeland security.

SPEA-J 429 Public Safety Management and Leadership (3 cr.) This capstone course is designed to examine the major public management principles, policy concerns, and leadership theories learned in an undergraduate management curriculum as they relate to how public safety is achieved in the field and in the policy making arena.

SPEA-J 433 Institutional Corrections (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. The history and development of the jail, penitentiary, prison, and reformatory. Analysis and evaluation of contemporary imprisonment.

SPEA-J 439 Crime and Public Policy (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 201, J 202, K 300. Senior standing or consent of instructor. A detailed examination of the major efforts designed to control or reduce crime. A review of existing knowledge is followed by an investigation of current crime control theories, proposals, and programs.

SPEA-J 440 Corrections in the Community (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. A detailed analysis of correctional alternatives to incarceration that focus on the reintegration of the offender while remaining in the community. Because of their extensive use, considerable attention is given to probation and parole. Other topics include diversion, community residential programs, restitution, halfway houses, and home detention.

SPEA-J 445 Trends in Corrections (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. Analysis and evaluation of contemporary correctional systems. Discussion of recent research concerning the correctional institution and the various field services.

SPEA-J 460 Police in the Community (3 cr.) P: SPEA-J 101. In-depth examination of crime as an urban policy problem, focusing on the role of police and victims in defining crime as a policy problem, and their role in seeking to reduce the incidence of crime.

SPEA-J 470 Seminar in Criminal Justice (1-3 cr.)
P: Senior standing. Emphasizes current developments in legal, administrative, and operational aspects of the criminal justice system.

SPEA-J 480 Research in Criminal Justice (1-6 cr.)
P: Junior standing and consent of instructor. Individual research under guidance of faculty member.

Environmental

SPEA-E 100 Environmental Topics (1-3 cr.) Study of selected issues in environmental affairs. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-E 162 Environment and People (3 cr.)
Environment and People is an introductory course that examines how humans interact with their environment. This course covers multiple topics, centered-around human-environment dimensions of environmental change. The overarching objective is to develop an understanding of our impact on the planet and possible solutions to environmental degradation. Credit not given for both SPEA-E 162 and E 262.

SPEA-S 162 Honors—Environment and People (3 cr.)
Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 162; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 260 Introduction to Water Resources (3 cr.) P: SPEA-E 272; any biology course. This course provides an introduction to the science and management of water resources. Topics include hydrology and the water cycle; a survey of aquatic ecosystems, biota and processes; and an examination of the types and consequences of water pollution and impairment of water resources.

SPEA-E 262 Environmental Problems and Solutions (3 cr.) P: One semester of college-level chemistry. An integrated approach to understanding and solving environmental problems. Topics may include ecosystem restoration, surface water and groundwater contamination, air pollution, and global environmental change. This course is intended primarily for majors in the B.S.E.S. degree program.

SPEA-E 272 Introduction to Environmental Sciences (3 cr.) P: (no P required for Bloomington); a statistics course. Application of principles from life and physical sciences to the understanding and management of the environment. Emphasis will be placed on (1) the physical and biological restraints on resource availability and use, and (2) the technological and scientific options to solving environmental problems.

SPEA-S 272 Honors—Introduction to Environmental Sciences (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 272; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 311 Introduction to Risk Assessment and Risk Communication (3 cr.) This course will cover basic human health and risk assessment procedures, as outlined by the various regulatory agencies (especially EPA) and standard setting groups. Because risk communication is an integral part of any risk management process, risk communication techniques and applications will be integrated into the course material.

SPEA-S 311 Honors—Introduction to Risk Assessment and Risk Communication (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 311; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 316 Insects and the Environment (3 cr.)
This course introduces insects in the context of their ecological importance, their effects on humans, and the environmental/economic impacts of pest management. The course is taught in five modules: Entomology, Insect Pests, Pest Management and Risk Reduction, Policies of Pest Management and Bio-diversity, and Pollution Prevention and Benefit-Cost Analysis.

SPEA-S 316 Honors—Insects and the Environment (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 316; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 324 Controversies in Environmental Health (3 cr.) A skills course in a debate format. Skills are developed by researching, preparing arguments for, and debating topics related to environmental health and health of the environment. Clear writing skills are also emphasized, as the students write up debate evaluations, which are critically graded for content, form, and style.

SPEA-E 325 Computing for Environmental Scientists (1-3 cr.) P: (no P required for Bloomington); MATH-M 118 or M 119; K 300 or equivalent; SPEA-E 272. Survey of computing applications to environmental issues. Personal computing emphasized. Application of spreadsheets, graphics, simple statistics, and BASIC programming to environmental science issues. Manipulation and interpretation of real data, case studies, and projects. Many software packages used.

SPEA-E 332 Introduction to Applied Ecology (3 cr.)
P: MATH-M 119 or M 211; CSCI-C 211 or BUS-K 201; and K 300. This course provides an introduction to applied ecology for non-science majors.

SPEA-S 332 Honors—Introduction to Applied Ecology (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 332; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 340 Environmental Economics and Finance (3 cr.) This course familiarizes students with the principles of environmental economics, finance, and cost-benefit analysis. The incentive effects of environmental policy design are assessed. Policy instruments include tradeable permits, emissions taxes, deposit-refund systems, pollution-prevention programs, and voluntary agreements.

Project appraisal techniques are then developed and applied to specific case evaluations.

SPEA-E 355 Introduction to Limnology (3 cr.)

Limnology is the integrated science of inland waters. Principles of physics, chemistry, geology, and biology combine to form the basis for understanding how lakes and streams function as aquatic ecosystems. The course will highlight the effects of human activity on lake and stream ecosystems.

SPEA-E 363 Environmental Management (3 cr.)

Introductory course in environmental management. Subjects covered include current issues and trends, total quality environment management, managing scientific and technical personnel, managing contracts and grants, nontraditional approaches to regulation, environmental conflict resolution, working with the media, risk communication, and working with communities.

SPEA-E 375 Techniques of Environmental Science (3 cr.)

P: SPEA-E 272 or H 316. Principles and methods of sampling, collection, measurement, analysis, interpretation, and presentation of data concerning environmental science. Through lab demonstrations and field work, students will become familiar with instrumentation and analytical methods currently used in environmental analysis. Team instruction will be used to demonstrate techniques.

SPEA-S 363 Honors—Environmental Management (3 cr.)

Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA#E 363; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 400 Topics in Environmental Studies (1-3 cr.)

P: (no P required for Bloomington) SPEA-E 272. An interdisciplinary consideration of specific environmental topics. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-E 410 Introduction to Environmental Toxicology (3 cr.)

P: any organismal biology course. Study of toxic mechanisms, pathology, and disease development resulting from exposure to biological and chemical agents in the environment.

SPEA-E 411 Introduction to Groundwater Hydrology (3 cr.)

An overview is presented of the theory and practice of groundwater movement, groundwater contamination, and aquifer testing and remediation, as well as policy issues such as groundwater management. The formal lectures are supplemented by several guest speakers, who are professionals working in different areas of groundwater hydrology.

SPEA-E 412 Risk Communication (3 cr.)

Risk communication is the means by which technical information is communicated to others (the public included), especially in the context of making decisions about environmentally related policy (such as siting of a landfill). The course emphasizes both theory (in lectures) and practical experience through developing and acting in role-play scenarios.

SPEA-E 418 Vector-Based Geographic Information Systems (3 cr.)

Introduction to geographic information systems using vector data structure Vector GIS capabilities and uses. Data structure and file management of spatial data. Laboratory exercises using ARC/INFO software.

SPEA-E 419 Applied Remote Sensing of the Environment (3 cr.)

Applications of remotely sensed data and raster geographic information systems in environmental research. Concepts of remote sensing. Image acquisition from different sensors, ranging from aerial photography to various types of satellite imagery. Image processing and analysis. Raster geographic information systems. Raster-vector integration. Concepts of spatial analysis.

SPEA-E 422 Urban Forest Management (3 cr.)

Originally an outgrowth of arboriculture, urban forestry now encompasses the broader concepts of managing the trees, forests and other natural resources of cities for ecological, economic, and social benefits. Lectures, discussions, and field projects will be supplemented by outside speakers. IUB and Bloomington will be the field laboratory.

SPEA-S 422 Honors—Urban Forest Management (3 cr.)

Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 422; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 423 Environmental Health Science Technology: Managing Water and Wastes (3 cr.)

P: SPEA-H 316; MATH 153. Technology approach to preventing the transmission of disease among humans through water and wastes. Course focuses on drinking water treatment and distribution, water quality and pollution, wastewater treatment, storm water management, municipal solid waste, and hazardous waste management.

SPEA-E 426 Applied Mathematics for Environmental Science (3 cr.)

P: Differential and Integral Calculus. Applications of mathematics to modeling environmental processes; applied calculus, numerical analysis, differential equations.

SPEA-E 431 Water Supply and Wastewater Treatment (3 cr.)

P: (no P required for Bloomington) SPEA-E 272 or H 316; CHEM-C 101 or equivalent; MATH-M 119 or equivalent. Health and ecological premises for water and wastewater treatment; principles of water supply; treatment, distribution, and construction; basis for water standards and laboratory examinations; wastewater disposal methods and construction for private installations, institutions, municipalities, and industries; water quality control with respect to wastewater pollution.

SPEA-E 440 Wetlands: Biology and Regulation (3 cr.)

P: SPEA-E 272 or H 316. This course focuses on structural and functional characteristics of wetlands, their importance as a natural resource and value to society. Topics include characteristics used to identify and classify wetlands, adaptations for living in wetlands, community structure and ecosystem processes, functions and values. Management of wetlands includes jurisdictional delineation and hydrogeomorphic assessment.

SPEA-S 440 Honors—Wetlands: Biology and Regulation (3 cr.)

Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 440; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 442 Habitat Analysis—Terrestrial (3 cr.) This is an experiential field methods course. Students work as teams, collecting field data to test hypotheses about forest habitats. Students will learn new methods and field skills in local parks and forests, then prepare scientific reports that incorporate statistical analysis to be presented in a class symposium.

SPEA-E 443 Habitat Analysis—Aquatic (3 cr.) This is an experiential field methods course. Students work in teams, collecting field data to test hypotheses about aquatic habitats. Students will learn new methods and field skills in local creeks, lakes, and wetlands, then prepare scientific reports that incorporate statistical analysis to be presented in a class symposium.

SPEA-E 451 Air Pollution and Control (3 cr.) P: (no P required for Bloomington); SPEA-E 272 or H 316; CHEM-C 101 or equivalent; MATH-M 118 or equivalent. A survey course covering the chemistry, transport, and fate of air pollutants related to current issues of air quality, such as photochemical smog, ozone depletion, particulate matter, and indoor air quality. Topics include the types, sources, health and environmental effects, measurement, evaluation, control, regulation, and modeling of air pollution concentrations.

SPEA-E 452 Solid and Hazardous Waste Management (3 cr.) P: (no P required for Bloomington); SPEA-E 272 or H 316. Types and sources of solid waste; collection methods; disposal techniques: sanitary landfill, incineration, composting, reclaiming, or recycling; advantages and disadvantages of each; special and hazardous waste handling; operation and management of solid and hazardous waste programs.

SPEA-S 452 Honors—Solid and Hazardous Waste Management (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 452; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 455 Limnology (3 cr.) P: College chemistry and biology or permission of instructor. Limnology is the ecology of inland lakes and streams, combining the principles of biology, chemistry, geology, and physics to understand how they function. The effects of human perturbation on aquatic systems will be highlighted in both lectures and laboratory work to aid student understanding of the concepts involved.

SPEA-E 456 Lake and Watershed Management (3 cr.) P: any college level biology or chemistry course. Students will learn to apply basic limnological principles to diagnose lake and watershed problems, to understand lake response to pollution, to identify appropriate management solutions, and to predict lake response to management.

SPEA-S 456 Honors—Lake and Watershed Management (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 456; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 457 Introduction to Conservation Biology (3 cr.) P: a 300-level ecology course. Ecological principles associated with rare species and with biodiversity, laws and statutes used to conserve biodiversity, and land and species management practices. The aim is to understand scientific and political complexities of conservation biology and to study different methods used to conserve living resources and resolve conflicts associated with conservation.

SPEA-S 457 Honors—Introduction to Conservation Biology (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-E 457; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-E 459 Field Techniques in Ecology (3 cr.) P: one semester of statistics. Course provides an introduction to field research on ecology. Field labs teach techniques associated with geographic and map work, population estimation, habitat measurement in a variety of settings, and soil sampling. Indoor work covers descriptive, univariate, and bivariate statistical techniques, data display, and report writing.

SPEA-E 460 Fisheries and Wildlife Management (3 cr.) This course first reviews taxonomy, vertebrate biology, and population ecology, then introduces the student to a variety of conflicts concerning fisheries and wildlife. Cases examine endangered species, over harvesting, maximum sustained yield, habitat evaluation, and recreational use.

SPEA-E 461 Fisheries and Wildlife Management Laboratory (3 cr.) P: SPEA-E 272 or H 316; any biology course; and SPEA-E 460 (can be concurrent). Practical experience course in which students identify fish and wildlife in the field for the purpose of evaluating the effectiveness of and making recommendations for change to existing wildlife plans.

SPEA-E 464 Organic Pollutants: Environmental Chemistry and Fate (3 cr.) P: SPEA-E 536 or permission of the instructor. This course provides students with both a quantitative and intuitive understanding of the relationship between chemical structure, environmental properties, and the behavior of organic contaminants in the environment, particularly aquatic environments. Physical/ chemical properties of organic chemicals, fate determining processes, and modeling concepts will be examined in detail.

SPEA-E 465 Environmental Management in the Tropics (3 cr.) Historical examination of land use in tropical, non-Western cultures. Resource use in physical and cultural settings is explored through an interface with ecology, economics, and policy analysis. Common principles of analysis are used to help the students understand the cultural and historical dimensions of how people relate to their environment.

SPEA-E 466 International and Comparative Environmental Policy (3 cr.) This course explores how stakeholders manage environmental problems that extend beyond national borders. Key questions considered include the following: How do nations resolve environmental conflict? Is environmental diplomacy in a state of crisis? How can we improve international environmental management? Historical, contemporary, and emerging institutions for international environmental protection are examined.

SPEA-E 470 Elements of Fluid Mechanics (3 cr.) Introduction to the fundamental concepts of fluid mechanics that relate to environmental science. Topics are selected from three disciplines. From hydraulics: hydrostatics, flow-through pipes, and open channels. From water surface hydrology: water balances, stream-flow measurements, and calculations. From groundwater hydrology: Darcy's Law, flow nets, and pumping tests.

SPEA-E 476 Environmental Law and Regulation (3 cr.)

Introductory course in environmental law and regulation. Subjects covered include command and control regulation, air quality, water quality, toxics, waste management, energy, natural resources, international environmental law, and alternative dispute resolution.

SPEA-E 482 Overseas Topics in Environmental Science (0-15 cr.)

SPEA Abroad Program: study of selected topics in environmental science. Topics vary from semester to semester. may be repeated for credit.

SPEA-E 490 Directed Field Research in Environmental Science (1-4 cr.)

Individualized laboratory or field-based research in any field of environmental science, under the direction of an advising professor. Students are expected to write a report on their research at the end of each semester. May be used to fulfill laboratory course requirement with the permission of the appropriate science department.

SPEA-E 491 Honors Research in Environmental Science (1-4 cr.)

Individualized laboratory or field-based honors research in any field of environmental science, under direction of an advising professor. Students are expected to write a report on their research at the end of each semester. May be used to fulfill laboratory course requirement with permission of the appropriate science department.

SPEA-E 499 Honors Thesis (3 cr.)

Required of SPEA Honors Program students. Research and paper to be arranged with individual instructor and approved by the Director of Undergraduate Programs.

SPEA-E 401 Human Behavior and Energy Consumption (3 cr.)

We Face many barriers that prevent us from conserving energy and other natural resources. This course is aimed at decreasing energy use independent of top down regulations. Students will understand the nature of energy, the importance of human behavior, and how to create, and evaluate behavioral change.

Public Affairs

SPEA-K 300 Statistical Techniques (3 cr.) P: MATH-M 014 or equivalent. R: MATH-M 118. An introduction to statistics. Nature of statistical data. Ordering and manipulation of data. Measures of central tendency and dispersion. Elementary probability. Concepts of statistical inference decision: estimation and hypothesis testing. Special topics discussed may include regression and correlation, analysis of variance, nonparametric methods. Credit not given for SPEA/PSY/CJUS/MATH K300 and ECON E 270/E 370, SOC-S 250, or PSY/MATH-K 310.

SPEA-K 301 Statistics Laboratory (1 cr.) This course is an optional module to accompany SPEA-K 300 Statistical Techniques and must be taken concurrently with K 300. The course focuses on application techniques being taught in K 300. This course will allow students to obtain tutoring with specific problems. Sessions are linked to K 300 lectures.

SPEA-V 130 Representative Bureaucracy and Social Equity (3 cr.)

Diversity has become a central theme of public policy, as America has struggled to expand on the Constitution's charge to promote the general welfare. The broad parameters of diversity are discussed, including the concepts of representative bureaucracy, social equity, and affirmative action and equal employment opportunity responses to the problem.

SPEA-V 160 National and International Policy (3 cr.)

This course will discuss current debates about United States public policy on the national and international levels. Some policy issues covered are economics, crime, security, health, and energy. Credit not given for both V 160 and V 170.

SPEA-V 100 Current Topics in Public Affairs (1-3 cr.)

Readings and discussion of current public issues and problems. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-S 160 Honors—National and International Policy (3 cr.)

Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA#V 160; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-V 161 Urban Problems and Solutions (3 cr.)

An introduction to urban policy issues. Topics include political, social, and economic foundations and development of cities and suburbs; urban planning; poverty; and other selected urban problems. Credit not given for both V 161 and V 264.

SPEA-S 161 Honors—Urban Problems and Solutions (3 cr.)

Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA#V 161; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-V 170 Introduction to Public Affairs (3 cr.)

Broad coverage of public affairs through critical and analytical inquiry into policy making at all levels of government. Particular emphasis on intergovernmental relations as they affect policy in the federal system. Credit not given for both V 160 and V 170.

SPEA-V 200 Competitive Debate Seminar (1 cr.)

This course is designed for students who wish to participate in the intercollegiate and competitive debate program. The Competitive Debate Seminar will be dedicated to advancing each particular students's understanding of debate concepts and theory, topic research, and practice debate rounds.

SPEA-V 212 Statistics for Public and Environmental Affairs (3 cr.)

The objectives of this course are to impart the concepts and tools of statistical analysis to students who may pursue additional coursework or careers in the public, private, or nonprofit sectors in arenas as diverse as governmental affairs, environmental management, and health management. Course assumes students have limited familiarity with statistics.

SPEA-V 220 Law and Public Affairs (3 cr.)

(Bloomington only.) This course provides a basic understanding of the origins, process, and impact of law in the making and implementation of public policy. The course's major objective is to provide students with the substantive concepts necessary to understand the judicial system and law in its various forms.

SPEA-S 220 Honors—Law and Public Affairs (3 cr.) (Bloomington only.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-V 220; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-V 221 Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector (3 cr.) This course provides a broad overview of the U.S. nonprofit sector. Topics include the sector's size and scope and its religious, historical, and theoretical underpinnings. It also examines perspectives on why people organize, donate to, and volunteer for nonprofit organizations, and looks at current challenges that the sector faces.

SPEA-V 222 Principles of Sustainability (3 cr.) (Indianapolis only) Meeting the needs of the present without jeopardizing the future involves an interrelationship between environmental, social, and economic systems. This course introduces and investigates the interrelationships between these approaches to synthesize a basic understanding that can lead to sustainable policies in the public, nonprofit and for-profit sectors.

SPEA-V 226 Managing Emergency Services (3 cr.) This course is designed to advance students' understanding of the chief administrator's role in directing police, fire, and emergency medical services on a day-to-day basis and during major disasters. This will include the challenges of planning for a major disaster, and managing the emergency and post recovery period.

SPEA-V 236 Management Concepts and Applications I (3 cr.) Course introduces domestic and global challenges of management in the public, nonprofit and private sectors. Examines a range of management concepts and how they can be applied in a contemporary setting. Topics include the organizational environmental; strategic planning and management; and performance. First of a 2-part sequence.

SPEA-S 236 Honors—Management Concepts and Applications I (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-V 236; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-V 246 Elements of Governmental and Nonprofit Financial Accounting Cycle (3 cr.) This course is designed to prepare students for next level courses in governmental accounting and reporting; nonprofit accounting and reporting; and health accounting and finance.

SPEA-V 252 Career Development and Planning (1-3 cr.) Course highlights include: identification of work values and personality preference, a career research assignment, networking assignments designed to prepare students for contact with employers, in-depth tutorial and feedback concerning how to craft a marketable resume and cover letter, and development of an overall career development plan.

SPEA-V 260 Topics in Public Affairs (1-3 cr.) Study of selected issues in public affairs. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-V 261 Technology in Public Affairs (3 cr.) An introduction to information technology and computing applications in public affairs. Topics include basic IT concepts, project proposals, network and infrastructure design, security and ethics, data and document management, cloud computing, and IT futures. Direct application of the above with office suites, website development, spreadsheets and statistics, and databases. Recommend basic understanding of computer operations.

SPEA-V 263 Public Management (3 cr.) This course is an examination of the management process in public organizations in the United States. Special attention will be given to external influences on public managers, the effect of the intergovernmental environment and, in particular, problems of management in a democratic, limited government system.

SPEA-V 264 Urban Structure and Policy (3 cr.) An introduction to urban government and policy issues. Topics include urban government structure and policy making, the economic foundations and development of cities, demography of cities and suburbs, land-use planning, and other selected urban policy problems. Credit not given for both SPEA-V 161 and SPEA-V 264.

SPEA-V 267 American Humanics Management Institute (1 cr.) Students attending the American Humanics Management Institute (AHMI) are required to participate in orientation meetings to plan for AHMI and raise funds for the trip. AHMI is held annually in January. Permission of the American Humanics Campus Director is required. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-V 268 American Humanics Topics (1-3 cr.) Topics covering specific American Humanics competencies reflecting the particular needs and interests of participating students and the local advisory board for the program. Topics may include risk management, fundraising, board and committee development, and nonprofit marketing. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-V 270 Survey of Administrative Techniques (3 cr.) Introduction to principles of management and systems theory for the administration of public agencies. Credit not given for both SPEA-V 270 and SPEA-J 310.

SPEA-V 272 Terrorism and Public Policy (3 cr.) A survey of the incidence of terrorism in democratic societies, with particular emphasis on public policy responses designed to combat terrorism in cities. Overviews of ongoing conflicts with terrorist organizations in various countries are interspersed with analyses of significant terrorist events and public policies and responses such events create.

SPEA-V 275 Introduction to Emergency Management (3 cr.) An examination of the background and nature of the profession, the central theoretical debates concerning natural and human-induced disasters, mitigating and reacting to these catastrophic events, and the major roles and responsibilities of emergency managers. Current practical problems and future directions will be explored.

SPEA-V 310 Environmental Justice (3 cr.) The study of disparate impact of environmental policies and practices on various population groups, both within the United States and internationally. This course includes studying the role of power, class, race and politics in the development and enforcement of environmental regulations.

SPEA-V 320 Current Events and General Politics (3 cr.) (Washington Leadership Program only.) Course examines Federal decision makers: who are they, how they operate, and their paths. Speakers are from health care, finance, transportation, environment, homeland security, etc. Students attend Congressional hearings and write legislative briefs. Course concludes with a mock congressional hearing role playing by students.

SPEA-V 322 Sustainable Management (3 cr.) (Indianapolis only.) This course examines the role of management in public and nonprofit organizations. Special attention is given to the application of the principles of sustainability to management, methods for public and interest group participation, communication and conflict resolution, and evidence-based management designed to track organizational progress.

SPEA-V 323 Sustainable Policy (3 cr.) (Indianapolis only.) This course investigates the difficulties of incorporating long-term environmental, social, and economic concerns into policy proposals. The principles of sustainability are applied to policy considerations and existing policies are analyzed for their long-term impact.

SPEA-V 336 Management Concepts and Applications II (3 cr.) P: SPEA-V 236 Management Concepts and Applications I. This Course exposes students to a variety of theories and concepts about individuals, groups, processes, and structures in organizations. A strong emphasis will be placed on the application of these theories and concepts to improving decision making, employee work-related attitudes, and performance. Specific topics covered in the course include organizational structure and design; work motivation and job satisfaction; communications; leadership; work groups and teams; organizational power and politics; performance; organizational change and innovation; human resources management practices; and diversity. This is the second course in a two-semester management sequence that begins with V 236 Management Concepts and Applications I.

SPEA-S 336 Honors—Management Concepts and Applications II (3 cr.) P: SPEA-V 236; or SPEA-S 236 Management Concepts and Applications I. Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-V 336; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-V 340 Urban Government Administration (3 cr.) Structure of local government in the United States, federalism and intergovernmental relations, policy problems faced by local officials, and the implications of these problems for local government administrators.

SPEA-V 346 Introduction to Government Accounting and Financial Reporting (3 cr.) P: SPEA-V 246 (Bloomington only); BUS-A 200 or BUS-A 201 (Indianapolis only); or permission of the instructor. An introduction to government accounting, including comparison with accounting for the private sector; intended as background for the use of financial administrators. The course deals primarily with municipal accounting.

SPEA-S 432 Honors—Health Care Marketing (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-H 432; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-H 433 Industrial Hygiene (3 cr.) Survey of the technical and regulatory aspects of protecting the health and safety of workers. Topics include basic toxicology; skin, eye, and respiratory hazards; measuring hazardous atmospheres; ventilation systems; fire and explosion hazards; emergency response; occupational hearing loss; radiation; prevention of accidents; cumulative trauma; and personal protective equipment.

SPEA-H 448 Public Health Education Methods (3 cr.) Usual techniques of group work with investigations of social and psychological factors that determine effectiveness in promoting public health. Laboratory time provides opportunity for competence in group work and in design and use of promotional materials.

SPEA-H 455 Topics in Public Health (1-3 cr.) Extensive discussion of selected topics in public health. The topic may change from semester to semester, based on resource availability and student demand. May be repeated for credit.

SPEA-H 456 Health Care Reimbursement (3 cr.) Course examines the organizational structures of managed care as used in the health industry. The strengths and weaknesses of managed care organizations are examined, as well as the performance of both public and private managed care organizations. Course also examines and discusses current issues surrounding managed care.

SPEA-S 456 Honors—Health Care Reimbursement (3 cr.) Requires consent of SPEA Honors advisor. Course covers same content as SPEA-H 456; however, honors students will complete advanced coursework.

SPEA-H 459 Environmental Science and Health Data Analysis (3 cr.) P: SPEA-H 316; SPEA-K 300; 1 semester of chemistry. Provides students with an understanding of the basic principles needed to perform sampling and analysis of field and laboratory environmental data. Topics include properties of chemical and biological constituents, detection limits, calibration, quality control, precision accuracy, and statistical analysis.

SPEA-H 460 Techniques in Environmental Science and Health (3 cr.) P: SPEA-H 459. Basic physical, chemical, and biological examinations and standards for potable water quality, wastewater treatment determinations, and stream pollution control. Basic physical, chemical, and biological (ergonomic) examinations used in industrial hygiene and air pollution control. Instruction in basic laboratory skills and techniques for performing these examinations.

SPEA-H 466 Public Health Field Experience (1-6 cr.) Supervised advanced training in professional and technical functions in public health; guided student activity and performance in professional public health functions. Individualized programs may be arranged to suit students' areas of concentration. Students will be required to fulfill a minimum of 120 hours of professional relevant work.

SPEA-H 472 Applied Health Care Administration (3 cr.) P: SPEA-H 320 and senior standing. This course is a study of the complexities of multi-institutional arrangements and integrated services in the U.S. health care industry. The focus is applying management skills to and making comparisons of the current driving forces among health care delivery system components.

SPEA-H 491 Directed Research in Public Health — Honors (3 cr.) This is an intensive research course for undergraduate public health majors in SPEA's Honors Program. The course focuses on theories, concepts, and case material selected by the student in consultation with a faculty member. Key research products for the course may include a substantial research paper or institutional analysis.

SPEA-H 492 Global Health Issues and Management (3 cr.) An overview of the theoretical underpinnings of, and current issues within, global health management. Topics include the impact of globalization on disease, health organization, program management, management of humanitarian events, and health system planning. The necessity of collective obligation and action for global health will be a recurring theme.

SPEA-H 499 Honors Thesis (3 cr.) Required of SPEA Honors Program students. Research and paper to be arranged with individual instructor and approved by the Director of Undergraduate Programs.
